WAC 246-296-180 Obligation for systems to comply if assistance is not obtained. (3) Applicability. These rules apply to independent review cases originating in Washington state under RCW 48.43.535, and to independent review organizations conducting these reviews.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 43.70.235 and 48.43.535. 01-08-023, § 246-305-001, filed 3/28/01, effective 4/28/01.]

(2007 Ed.)

WAC 246-305-030 Conflict of interest. (1) An IRO:

(a) Must not be a subsidiary of, or in any way owned or controlled by, a carrier or an association of health care providers or carriers;

(b) Must provide information to the department on its own organizational affiliations and potential conflicts of interest at the time of application and when material changes occur;

(c) Must immediately turn down a case referred by the insurance commissioner if accepting it would constitute an organizational conflict of interest; and

(d) Must ensure that reviewers are free from any actual or potential conflict of interest in assigned cases.

(2) An IRO, as well as its reviewers, must not have any material professional, familial, or financial affiliation, as defined in WAC 246-305-010, with the health carrier, enrollee, enrollee's provider, that provider's medical or practice group, the facility at which the service would be provided, or the developer or manufacturer of a drug or device under review. An affiliation with any director, officer or executive of an IRO shall be considered to be an affiliation with the IRO.

(3) The following do not constitute violations of this section:

(a) Staff affiliation with an academic medical center or National Cancer Institute-designated clinical cancer research center;

(b) Staff privileges at a health facility;

(c) Maintaining a provider contract with a carrier which provides no more than five percent of the provider's or clinical group's annual revenue; or

(d) An IRO's receipt of a carrier's payment for independent reviews assigned by the insurance commissioner under RCW 48.43.535.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (3) of this section, a potential reviewer shall be considered to have a conflict of interest with regard to a facility or health plan, regardless of revenue from that source, if the potential reviewer is a member of a standing committee of: The facility, the health plan or a provider network that contracts with the health plan.

(5) A conflict of interest may be waived only if both the enrollee and the health plan agree in writing after receiving full disclosure of the conflict, and only if:

(a) The conflict involves a reviewer, and no alternate reviewer with necessary special expertise is available; or

(b) The conflict involves an IRO and the insurance commissioner determines that seeking a waiver of conflict is preferable to reassigning the review to a different IRO.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 43.70.235 and 48.43.535. 01-08-023, § 246-305-030, filed 3/28/01, effective 4/28/01.]

WAC 246-305-040 Expert reviewers. (1) Each IRO must maintain an adequate number and range of qualified expert reviewers in order to:

(a) Make determinations regarding the full range of independent review cases occurring in Washington under RCW 48.43.535; and

(b) Meet timelines specified in WAC 246-305-050(3) including those for expedited review.

[Title 246 WAC—p. 705]

(2) All reviewers shall be health care providers with the exception of contract specialists.

(3) IROs must maintain policies and practices that assure that all clinical reviewers:

(a) Hold a current, unrestricted license, certification, or registration in Washington, or current, unrestricted credentials from another state with substantially comparable requirements, as determined by the department and outlined in the November 2000 edition of the department of health publication, Health Care Professional Credentialing Requirements;

(b) Have at least five years of recent clinical experience;

(c) Are board-certified in the case of a medical doctor, a doctor of osteopathy, a podiatrist, or a member of another profession in which board certification exists as determined by the department of health; and

(d) Have the ability to apply scientific standards of evidence in judging research literature pertinent to review issues, as demonstrated through relevant training or professional experience.

(4) Contract specialists must be knowledgeable in health insurance contract law, as evidenced by training and experience, but do not need to be an attorney or have any state credential.

(5) Assignment of appropriate reviewers to a case.

(a) An IRO shall assign one or more expert reviewer to each case, as necessary to meet requirements of this subsection.

(b) Any reviewer assigned to a case must comply with the conflict of interest provisions in WAC 246-305-030.

(c) The IRO shall assign one or more clinical reviewers to each case. At least one clinical reviewer assigned to each case must meet each of the following requirements:

(i) Have expertise to address each of the issues that are the source of the dispute;

(ii) Be a clinical peer as defined in WAC 246-305-010(6);

(iii) Have the ability to evaluate alternatives to the proposed treatment.

(d) All clinical reviewers assigned must have at least five years of recent clinical experience dealing with the same health conditions under review or similar conditions. Exceptions may be made to this requirement in unusual situations when the only experts available for a highly specialized review are in academic or research life and do not meet the clinical experience requirement.

(e) If contract interpretation issues must be addressed, a contract specialist must be assigned to the review.

(f) Each IRO must have a policy specifying the number and qualifications of reviewers to be assigned to each case. The number of expert reviewers should be dictated by what it takes to meet the requirements of this subsection.

(i) The number of expert reviewers should reflect the complexity of the case, the goal of avoiding unnecessary cost, and the need to avoid tie votes.

(ii) The IRO may consider, but shall not be bound by, recommendations regarding complexity from the carrier or attending provider.

(iii) Special attention should be given to situations such as review of experimental and investigational treatments that may benefit from an expanded panel.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 43.70.235 and 48.43.535. 01-08-023, § 246-305-040, filed 3/28/01, effective 4/28/01.]

WAC 246-305-050 Independent review process. (1) Information for review.

(a) IROs must request as necessary, accept and consider the following information as relevant to a case referred:

(i) Information that the carrier is required to submit to the IRO under WAC 284-43-630, including information identified in that section that is initially missing or incomplete as submitted by the carrier.

(ii) Other medical, scientific, and cost-effectiveness evidence which is relevant to the case. For the purposes of this section, medical, scientific, and cost-effectiveness evidence has the meaning assigned in WAC 246-305-010.

(b) After referral of a case, an IRO must accept additional information from the enrollee, the carrier, or a provider acting on behalf of the enrollee or at the enrollee's request, provided the information is submitted within seven calendar days of the referral or, in the case of an expedited referral, within twenty-four hours. The additional information must be related to the case and relevant to statutory criteria.

(2) Completion of reviews: Once the insurance commissioner refers a review, the IRO must proceed to final determination unless requested otherwise by both the carrier and the enrollee.

(3) Time frames for reviews.

(a) An IRO must make its determination within the following time limits:

(i) If the review is not expedited, within fifteen days after receiving necessary information, or within twenty days after receiving the referral, whichever is earlier. In exceptional circumstances where information is incomplete, the determination may be delayed until no later than twenty-five days after receiving the referral.

(ii) If the review is expedited, within seventy-two hours after receiving all necessary information, or within eight days after receiving the referral, whichever is earlier. Expedited time frames apply when a condition could seriously jeopardize the enrollee's health or ability to regain maximum function, as determined consistent with WAC 284-43-620. If information on whether a referral is expedited is not provided to the IRO, the IRO may presume that it is not an expedited review, but the IRO has the option to seek clarification from the insurance commissioner.

(b) An IRO must provide notice to enrollees and the carrier of the result and basis for the determination, consistent with subsection (5) of this section, within two business days of making a determination in regular cases and immediately in expedited cases.

(c) As used in this subsection, a day is a calendar day, except that if the period ends on a weekend or an official Washington state holiday, the time limit is extended to the next business day. A business day is any day other than Saturday, Sunday or an official Washington state holiday.

(4) Decision-making procedures.

(a) The independent review process is intended to be neutral and independent of influence by any affected party or by state government. The department may conduct investigations under the provisions of this chapter but the department has no involvement in the disposition of specific cases.

(b) Independent review is a paper review process. These rules do not establish a right to in-person participation or attendance by the enrollee, the health plan, or the attending provider nor to reconsideration of IRO determinations.

(c) An IRO shall present cases to reviewers in a way that maximizes the likelihood of a clear, unambiguous determination. This may involve stating or restating the questions for review in a clear and precise manner that encourages yes or no answers.

(d) If more than one reviewer is used, the IRO shall:

(i) Provide an opportunity for the reviewers to exchange ideas and opinions about the case with one another, if requested by a reviewer. This shall be done in a manner that avoids pressure on reviewers to take a position with which they do not agree and preserves a dissenting reviewer's opportunity to document the rationale for dissent in the case file.

(ii) Accept the majority decision of the clinical reviewers in determining clinical issues.

(e) When a case requires an interpretation regarding the application of health plan coverage provisions, that determination shall be made by a reviewer or reviewers who are qualified as contract specialists.

(f) An IRO may uphold an adverse determination if the patient or any provider refuses to provide relevant medical records that are available and have been requested with reasonable opportunity to respond. An IRO may overturn an adverse determination if the carrier refuses to provide relevant medical records that are available and have been requested with reasonable opportunity to respond.

(g) If reviewers are deadlocked, the IRO may add another reviewer if time allows.

(h) If all pertinent information has been disclosed and reviewers are unable to make a determination, the IRO shall decide in favor of the enrollee.

(5) Notification and documentation of determinations. An IRO must notify the enrollee and the carrier of the result and rationale for the determination, including its clinical basis unless the decision is wholly based on application of coverage provisions, within the time frame in subsection (3)(b) of this section.

(a) Documentation of the basis for the determination shall include references to support evidence, and if applicable, the rationale for any interpretation regarding the application of health plan coverage provisions.

(b) If the determination overrides the health plan's medical necessity or appropriateness standards, the rationale shall document why the health plan's standards are unreasonable or inconsistent with sound, evidence-based medical practice.

(c) The written report shall include the qualifications of reviewers but shall not disclose the identity of the reviewers.

(d) Notification of the determination shall be provided initially by phone, e-mail or fax, followed by a written report by mail. In the case of expedited reviews the initial notification shall be immediate and by phone.

WAC 246-305-060 Criteria and considerations for independent review determinations. (1) General criteria and considerations.

(2007 Ed.)

(a) An IRO's determination must use fair procedures and be consistent with the standards in RCW 43.70.235, 48.43.535, and this chapter.

(b) The expert reviewers from a certified IRO will make determinations regarding the medical necessity or appropriateness of, and the application of health plan coverage provisions to, health care services for an enrollee.

(c) The IRO must ensure that determinations are consistent with the scope of covered benefits as outlined in the medical coverage agreement.

(i) Clinical reviewers may override the health plan's medical necessity or appropriateness standards only if the standards are determined upon review to be unreasonable or inconsistent with sound, evidence-based medical practice.

(ii) Reviewers may make determinations about the application of general health plan coverage provisions to specific issues concerning health care services for an enrollee. For example, whether a specific service is excluded by more general benefit exclusion language may require independent interpretation.

(2) Medical necessity and appropriateness—Criteria and considerations. Only clinical reviewers may determine whether a service, which is the subject of an adverse decision, is medically necessary and appropriate. These determinations must be based upon their expert clinical judgment, after consideration of relevant medical, scientific, and cost-effectiveness evidence, and medical standards of practice in the state of Washington.

(a) Medical standards of practice include the standards appropriately applied to physicians or other health care providers, as pertinent to the case.

(b) In considering medical standards of practice within the state of Washington:

(i) Clinical reviewers may use national standards of care, absent evidence presented by the health plan or enrollee that the Washington standard of care is different.

(ii) A health care service or treatment should be considered part of the Washington standard of practice if reviewers believe that failure to provide it would be inconsistent with that degree of care, skill and learning expected of a reasonably prudent health care provider acting in the same or similar circumstances.

(c) Medical necessity will be a factor in most cases referred to an IRO, but not necessarily in all. See WAC 246-305-060(3).

(3) Health plan coverage provisions—Criteria and considerations. The following requirements shall be observed when a review requires making determinations about the application of health plan coverage provisions to issues concerning health care services for an enrollee.

(a) These determinations shall be made by one or more contract specialists meeting the requirements of WAC 246-305-040(4), except that a clinical determination of medical necessity or appropriateness, by itself, is not an interpretation of the scope of covered benefits and does not require a contract specialist.

(b) If the full health plan coverage agreement has not already been provided by the carrier pursuant to WAC 284-43-630 (2)(f) of the insurance commissioner, the IRO shall request additional provisions from the health plan coverage agreement in effect during the relevant period of the enrollee's coverage, as necessary to have an adequate context for determinations.

(c) In general, the IRO and its contract specialists may assume that the contractual health plan coverage provisions themselves are consistent with the Washington Insurance Code (Title 48 RCW), absent information to the contrary. Primary responsibility for determining consistency with the insurance code, when at issue, rests with the insurance commissioner.

(4) No provision of this chapter should be interpreted to establish a standard of medical care, or to create or eliminate any cause of action.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 43.70.235 and 48.43.535. 01-08-023, § 246-305-060, filed 3/28/01, effective 4/28/01.]

WAC 246-305-070 Administrative processes and capabilities of independent review organizations. (1) An IRO must maintain written policies and procedures covering all aspects of review.

(2) An IRO must ensure the confidentiality of medical records and other personal health information received for use in independent reviews, in accordance with applicable federal and state laws.

(3) An IRO must have a quality assurance mechanism that ensures the timeliness, quality of review and communication of determinations to enrollees and carriers. The mechanism must also ensure the qualifications, impartiality, and freedom from conflict of interest of the organization, its staff, and expert reviewers.

(a) The quality assurance program must include a written plan addressing scope and objectives, program organization, monitoring and oversight mechanisms, and evaluation and organizational improvement of IRO activities.

(b) Quality of reviews includes use of appropriate methods to match the case, confidentiality, and systematic evaluation of complaints for patterns or trends. Complaints must be recorded on a log, including nature of complaint and how resolved. The department reserves the right to examine both the complaints and the log.

(c) Organizational improvement efforts must include the implementation of action plans to improve or correct identified problems, and communication of the results of action plans to staff and reviewers.

(4) An IRO must maintain case logs and case files with full documentation of referrals, reviewers, questions posed, information considered (including sources of the information and citations of studies or criteria), determinations and their rationale, communication with parties in the dispute including notices given, and key dates in the process, for at least two years following the review.

(5) An IRO must maintain a training program for staff and expert reviewers, addressing at least:

- (a) Confidentiality;
- (b) Neutrality and conflict of interest;
- (c) Appropriate conduct of reviews;
- (d) Documentation of evidence for determination; and
- (e) In the case of contract specialists, principles of health contract law and any provisions of Washington law determined to be essential.

(6) An IRO must maintain business hours, methods of contact (including by telephone), procedures for after-hours requests, and other relevant procedures to ensure timely availability to conduct expedited as well as regular reviews.

(7) An IRO shall not disclose reviewers' identities. The department will not require reviewers' identities as part of the certification application process but may examine identified information about reviewers as part of enforcement activities.

(8) An IRO shall promptly report any attempt at interference by any party, including a state agency, to the department.

(9) An IRO shall have a medical director who holds a current unrestricted license as a medical doctor or osteopathic physician and has had experience in direct patient care. The medical director shall provide guidance for clinical aspects of the independent review process and oversee the IRO's quality assurance and credentialing programs.

WAC 246-310-210 Determination of need. The determination of need for any project shall be based on the following criteria, except these criteria will not justify exceeding the limitation on increases of nursing home beds provided in WAC 246-310-810.

(1) The population served or to be served has need for the project and other services and facilities of the type proposed are not or will not be sufficiently available or accessible to meet that need. The assessment of the conformance of a project with this criterion shall include, but need not be limited to, consideration of the following:

(a) In the case of a reduction, relocation, or elimination of a service, the need the population presently served has for the service, the extent to which the need will be met adequately by the proposed relocation or by alternative arrangements, and the effect of the reduction, elimination, or relocation of the service on the ability of low-income persons, racial and ethnic minorities, women, handicapped persons, and other underserved groups and the elderly to obtain needed health care;

(b) In the case of health services or facilities proposed to be provided, the efficiency and appropriateness of the use of existing services and facilities similar to those proposed;

(c) In the case of an application by an osteopathic or allopathic facility the need for and the availability in the community of services and facilities for osteopathic and allopathic physicians and their patients, and the impact on existing and proposed institutional training programs for doctors of osteopathy and medicine at the student, internship, and residency training levels; and

(d) In the case of a project not involving health services, the contribution of the project toward overall management and support of such services.

(2) All residents of the service area, including low-income persons, racial and ethnic minorities, women, handicapped persons, and other underserved groups and the elderly are likely to have adequate access to the proposed health service or services. The assessment of the conformance of a project with this criterion shall include, but not be limited to, consideration as to whether the proposed services makes a contribution toward meeting the health-related needs of members of medically underserved groups which have traditionally experienced difficulties in obtaining equal access to health services, particularly those needs identified in the applicable regional health plan, annual implementation plan, and state health plan as deserving of priority. Such consideration shall include an assessment of the following:

(a) The extent to which medically underserved populations currently use the applicant's services in comparison to the percentage of the population in the applicant's service area which is medically underserved, and the extent to which medically underserved populations are expected to use the proposed services if approved;

(b) The past performance of the applicant in meeting obligations, if any, under any applicable federal regulations requiring provision of uncompensated care, community service, or access by minorities and handicapped persons to programs receiving federal financial assistance (including the existence of any unresolved civil rights access complaints against the applicant);

(c) The extent to which Medicare, Medicaid, and medically indigent patients are served by the applicant; and

(d) The extent to which the applicant offers a range of means by which a person will have access to its services (e.g., outpatient services, admission by house staff, admission by personal physician).

(3) The applicant has substantiated any of the following special needs and circumstances the proposed project is to serve.

(a) The special needs and circumstances of entities such as medical and other health professions schools, multidisciplinary clinics and specialty centers providing a substantial portion of their services or resources, or both, to individuals not residing in the health service areas in which the entities are located or in adjacent health service areas.

(b) The special needs and circumstances of biomedical and behavioral research projects designed to meet a national need and for which local conditions offer special advantages.

(c) The special needs and circumstances of osteopathic hospitals and nonallopathic services.

(4) The project will not have an adverse effect on health professional schools and training programs. The assessment of the conformance of a project with this criterion shall include consideration of:

(a) The effect of the means proposed for the delivery of health services on the clinical needs of health professional training programs in the area in which the services are to be provided; and

(b) If proposed health services are to be available in a limited number of facilities, the extent to which the health professions schools serving the area will have access to the services for training purposes.

(5) The project is needed to meet the special needs and circumstances of enrolled members or reasonably anticipated new members of a health maintenance organization or proposed health maintenance organization and the services proposed are not available from nonhealth maintenance organization providers or other health maintenance organizations in a reasonable and cost-effective manner consistent with the basic method of operation of the health maintenance organization or proposed health maintenance organization. In assessing the availability of health services from these providers, the department shall consider only whether the services from these providers:

(a) Would be available under a contract of at least five years' duration;

(b) Would be available and conveniently accessible through physicians and other health professionals associated with the health maintenance organization or proposed health maintenance organization (for example - whether physicians associated with the health maintenance organization have or will have full staff privileges at a nonhealth maintenance organization hospital);

(c) Would cost no more than if the services were provided by the health maintenance organization or proposed health maintenance organization; and

(d) Would be available in a manner administratively feasible to the health maintenance organization or proposed health maintenance organization.

(6) For nursing home projects including distinct part long-term care units located in a hospital and licensed under chapter 70.41 RCW, the following criterion shall apply in addition to those found in WAC 246-310-380.

(a) In the case of an application for new nursing home beds, the department shall find no need if the state is at or above the statewide estimated bed need, except as referenced in WAC 246-310-380(5). However, the department may put under review and subsequently approve or deny applications that propose to redistribute nursing home beds to a planning area under the established ratio. The department may also consider applications that propose to add beds in planning areas under the established ratio using beds banked and for which the need for the beds is not deemed met, under the provisions of RCW 70.38.115(13). For the above projects, the need for such projects, shall, in part, be determined using individual planning area estimated bed need numbers.

(b) If the state is below the statewide estimated bed need or for those projects referenced above, the department shall determine the need for nursing home beds, including distinct part long-term care units located in a hospital licensed under chapter 70.41 RCW, based on:

(i) The availability of other nursing home beds in the planning area to be served; and

(ii) The availability of other services in the planning area to be served. Other services to be considered include, but are not limited to: Assisted living (as defined in chapter 74.39A RCW); boarding home (as defined in chapter 18.20 RCW); enhanced adult residential care (as defined in chapter 74.39A RCW); adult residential care (as defined in chapter 74.39A RCW); adult family homes (as defined in chapter 70.128 RCW); hospice, home health and home care (as defined in chapter 70.127 RCW); personal care services (as defined in chapter 74.09 RCW); and home and community services provided under the community options program entry system waiver (as referenced in chapter 74.39A RCW). The availability of other services shall be based on data which demonstrates that the other services are capable of adequately meeting the needs of the population proposed to be served by the applicant. The following variables should be evaluated in this analysis when available:

(A) The current capacity of nursing homes and other long-term care services;

(B) The occupancy rates of nursing homes and other long-term care services over the previous two-year period;

(C) Proposed residential care projects scheduled to be completed within the same period of time indicated on the nursing home certificate of need application; and

(D) The ability of the other long-term care services to serve all people regardless of payor source.

WAC 246-310-220 Determination of financial feasibility. The determination of financial feasibility of a project shall be based on the following criteria.

(1) The immediate and long-range capital and operating costs of the project can be met.

(2) The costs of the project, including any construction costs, will probably not result in an unreasonable impact on the costs and charges for health services.

(3) The project can be appropriately financed.

WAC 246-310-230 Criteria for structure and process of care. A determination that a project fosters an acceptable or improved quality of health care shall be based on the following criteria.

(1) A sufficient supply of qualified staff for the project, including both health personnel and management personnel, are available or can be recruited.

(2) The proposed service(s) will have an appropriate relationship, including organizational relationship, to ancillary and support services, and ancillary and support services will be sufficient to support any health services included in the proposed project.

(3) There is reasonable assurance that the project will be in conformance with applicable state licensing requirements and, if the applicant is or plans to be certified under the Medicaid or Medicare program, with the applicable conditions of participation related to those programs.

(4) The proposed project will promote continuity in the provision of health care, not result in an unwarranted fragmentation of services, and have an appropriate relationship to the service area's existing health care system.

(5) There is reasonable assurance that the services to be provided through the proposed project will be provided in a manner that ensures safe and adequate care to the public to be served and in accord with applicable federal and state laws, rules, and regulations. The assessment of the conformance of a project to this criterion shall include but not be limited to consideration as to whether:

(a) The applicant or licensee has no history, in this state or elsewhere, of a criminal conviction which is reasonably related to the applicant's competency to exercise responsibility for the ownership or operation of a health care facility, a denial or revocation of a license to operate a health care facility, a revocation of a license to practice a health profession, or a decertification as a provider of services in the Medicare or Medicaid program because of failure to comply with applicable federal conditions of participation; or

(b) If the applicant or licensee has such a history, whether the applicant has affirmatively established to the department's satisfaction by clear, cogent and convincing evidence that the applicant can and will operate the proposed project for which the certificate of need is sought in a manner that ensures safe and adequate care to the public to be served and conforms to applicable federal and state requirements.

(1) Superior alternatives, in terms of cost, efficiency, or effectiveness, are not available or practicable.

(2) In the case of a project involving construction:

(a) The costs, scope, and methods of construction and energy conservation are reasonable; and

(b) The project will not have an unreasonable impact on the costs and charges to the public of providing health services by other persons.

(3) The project will involve appropriate improvements or innovations in the financing and delivery of health services which foster cost containment and which promote quality assurance and cost effectiveness.

WAC 246-310-261 Open heart surgery standards and need forecasting method. (1) Open heart surgery means a specialized surgical procedure (excluding organ transplantation) which utilizes a heart-lung bypass machine and is intended to correct congenital and acquired cardiac and coronary artery disease.

(2) Open heart surgery is a tertiary service as listed in WAC 246-310-020. To be granted a certificate of need, an open heart surgery program shall meet the standards in this section in addition to applicable review criteria in WAC 246-310-210, 246-310-220, 246-310-230, and 246-310-240.

(3) Standards.

(a) A minimum of two hundred fifty open heart surgery procedures per year shall be performed at institutions with an open heart surgery program.

(b) Hospitals applying for a certificate of need shall demonstrate that they can meet one hundred ten percent of the minimum volume standard. To do so, the applicant hospital must provide written documentation, which is verifiable, of open heart surgeries performed on patients referred by active medical staff of the hospital. The volume of surgeries counted must be appropriate for the proposed program (i.e., pediatric and recognized complicated cases would be excluded).

(c) No new program shall be established which will reduce an existing program below the minimum volume standard.

(d) Open heart surgery programs shall have at least two board certified cardiac surgeons, one of whom shall be available for emergency surgery twenty-four hours a day. The practice of these surgeons shall be concentrated in a single institution and arranged so that each surgeon performs a minimum of one hundred twenty-five open heart surgery procedures per year at that institution.

(e) Institutions with open heart surgery programs shall have plans for facilitating emergency access to open heart surgery services at all times for the population they serve. These plans should, at minimum, include arrangements for addressing peak volume periods (such as joint agreements with other programs, the capacity to temporarily increase staffing, etc.), and the maintenance of or affiliation with emergency transportation services (including contingency plans for poor weather and known traffic congestion problems).

(f) In the event two or more hospitals are competing to meet the same forecasted net need, the department shall consider the following factors when determining which proposal best meets forecasted need:

- (i) The most appropriate improvement in geographic access;
- (ii) The most cost efficient service;
- (iii) Minimizing impact on existing programs;
- (iv) Providing the greatest breadth and depth of cardiovascular and support services; and
- (v) Facilitating emergency access to care.

(g) Hospitals granted a certificate of need have three years from the date the program is initiated to establish the program and meet these standards.

(h) These standards should be reevaluated in at least three years.

(4) Steps in the need forecasting method. The department will develop a forecast of need for open heart surgery every year using the following procedures.

(a) Step 1. Based upon the most recent three years volumes reported for the hospitals within each planning area, compute the planning area's current capacity and the percent of out-of-state use of the area's hospitals. In those planning areas where a new program is being established, the assumed volume of that institution will be the greater of either the minimum volume standard or the estimated volume described in the approved application and adjusted by the department in the course of review and approval.

(b) Step 2. Patient origin adjust the three years of open heart surgery data, and compute each planning area's age-specific use rates and market shares.

(c) Step 3. Multiply the planning area's age-specific use rates by the area's corresponding forecast year population. The sum of these figures equals the forecasted number of surgeries expected to be performed on the residents of each planning area.

(d) Step 4. Apportion the forecasted surgeries among the planning areas in accordance with each area's average market share for the last three years of the four planning areas. This figure equals the forecasted number of state residents' surgeries expected to occur within the hospitals in each planning area. In those areas where a newly approved program is being established, an adjustment will be made to reflect anticipated market share shifts consistent with the approved application.

(e) Step 5. Increase the number of surgeries expected to occur within the hospitals in each planning area in accordance with the percent of surgeries calculated as occurring in those hospitals on out-of-state residents, based on the average of the last three years. This figure equals the total forecasted number of surgeries expected to occur within the hospitals in each planning area.

(f) Step 6. Calculate the net need for additional open heart surgery services by subtracting the current capacity from the total forecasted surgeries.

(g) Step 7. If the net need is less than the minimum volume standard, no new programs shall be assumed to be needed in the planning area. However, hospitals may be granted certificate of need approval even if the forecasted need is less than the minimum volume standard, provided:

(i) The applying hospital can meet all the other certificate of need criteria for an open heart surgery program (including documented evidence of capability of achieving the minimum volume standard); and

(ii) There is documented evidence that at least eighty percent of the patients referred for open heart surgery by the medical staff of the applying hospital are referred to institutions more than seventy-five miles away.

(5) For the purposes of the forecasting method in this section, the following terms have the following specific meanings:

(a) Age-specific categories. The categories used in computing age-specific values will be fifteen to forty-four year olds, forty-five to sixty-four year olds, sixty-five to seventy-four year olds, and seventy-five and older.

(b) Current capacity. A planning area's current capacity for open heart surgeries equals the sum of the highest reported annual volume for each hospital within the planning area during the most recent available three years data.

(c) Forecast year. Open heart surgery service needs shall be based on forecasts for the fourth year after the certificate of need open heart surgery concurrent review process. The 1992 reviews will be based on forecasts for 1996.

(d) Market share. The market share of a planning area represents the percent of a planning area's total patient origin adjusted surgeries that were performed in hospitals located in that planning area. The most recent available three years data will be used to compute the age-specific market shares for each planning area.

(e) Open heart surgeries. Open heart surgeries are defined as DRGs 104 through 108, inclusive. All pediatric surgeries (ages fourteen and under) are excluded.

(f) Out-of-state use of planning area hospitals. The percent of out-of-state use of hospitals within a planning area will equal the percent of total surgeries occurring within the planning area's hospitals that were performed on patients from out-of-state (or on patients whose reported zip codes are invalid). The most recent available three years data will be used to compute out-of-state use of planning area hospitals.

(g) Patient origin adjustment. A patient origin adjustment of open heart surgeries provides a count of surgeries performed on the residents of a planning area regardless of which planning area the surgeries were performed in. (Surgeries can be patient origin adjusted by using the patient's zip code reported in the CHARS data base.)

(h) Planning areas. Four regional health service areas will be used as planning areas for forecasting open heart surgery service needs.

(i) Health service area "one" includes the following counties: Clallam, Island, Jefferson, King, Kitsap, Pierce, San Juan, Snohomish, Skagit, and Whatcom.

(ii) Health service area "two" includes the following counties: Cowlitz, Clark, Grays Harbor, Klickitat, Lewis, Mason, Pacific, Skamania, Thurston, and Wahkiakum.

(iii) Health service area "three" includes the following counties: Benton, Chelan, Douglas, Franklin, Grant, Kittitas, Okanogan, and Yakima.

(iv) Health service area "four" includes Adams, Asotin, Columbia, Ferry, Garfield, Lincoln, Pend Oreille, Stevens, Spokane, Walla Walla, and Whitman.

(v) Use rate. The open heart surgery use rate equals the number of surgeries performed on the residents of a planning area divided by the population of that planning area. The most recent available three years data is used to compute an averaged annual age-specific use rate for the residents of each of the four planning areas.

(6) The data source for open heart surgeries is the comprehensive hospital abstract reporting system (CHARS), office of hospital and patient data, department of health.

(7) The data source for population estimates and forecasts is the office of financial management population trends reports.

WAC 246-310-262 Nonemergent interventional cardiology standard. All nonemergent percutaneous transluminal coronary angioplasty (PTCA) procedures and all other nonemergent interventional cardiology procedures are tertiary services as defined in WAC 246-310-010 and shall be performed in institutions which have an established on-site open heart surgery program capable of performing emergency open heart surgery.

WAC 246-310-263 Pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional treatment center standards and need forecasting method. (1) A pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional treatment center is a hospital providing comprehensive pediatric cardiology care, including medical and surgical diagnosis and treatment.

(2) Pediatric cardiac surgery and interventions includes, but is not limited to: All pediatric surgery of the heart (excluding organ transplantation) and the great vessels in the chest; all pediatric catheter-based nonsurgical therapeutic and diagnostic interventions in the heart and great vessels in the chest; and invasive pediatric electrophysiologic procedures.

(3) Pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional procedure is a tertiary service as listed in WAC 246-310-020. To be granted a certificate of need for a pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional treatment center, a hospital must meet the standards in this section in addition to applicable review criteria in WAC 246-310-210, 246-310-220, 246-310-230, and 246-310-240.

(4) The department must review new pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional center applications using the concurrent review cycle in this section.

(a) Applicants must submit letters of intent between the first working day and last working day of August of each year.

(b) Initial applications must be submitted between the first working day and last working day of September of each year.

(c) The department shall screen initial applications for completeness by the last working day of October of each year.

(d) Responses to screening questions must be submitted by the last working day of November of each year.

(e) The public review and comment period for applications begins on December 16 of each year. If December 16 is not a working day in any year, then the public review and comment period begins on the first working day after December 16.

(f) The public comment period is limited to ninety days, unless extended according to the provisions of WAC 246-310-120 (2)(d). The first sixty days of the public comment period shall be reserved for receiving public comments and conducting a public hearing, if requested. The remaining thirty days shall be for the applicant or applicants to provide rebuttal statements to written or oral statements submitted during the first sixty-day period. Any interested person that:

(i) Is located or resides within the applicant's health service area;

(ii) Testified or submitted evidence at a public hearing; and

(iii) Requested in writing to be informed of the department's decision, must also be provided the opportunity to provide rebuttal statements to written or oral statements submitted during the first sixty-day period.

(g) The final review period is limited to sixty days, unless extended according to the provisions of WAC 246-310-120.

(5) The department may convert the review of an application that was initially submitted under the concurrent review cycle to a regular review process if the department determines that the application does not compete with another application.

(6) Any letter of intent or certificate of need application submitted for review in advance of this schedule, or certificate of need application under review as of the effective date of this section, shall be held by the department for review according to the schedule in this section.

(7) Standards.

(a) A minimum of one hundred pediatric cardiac surgical procedures (seventy-five with extracorporeal circulation) per year and a minimum of one hundred fifty catheterizations must be performed at a hospital with a pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional treatment center by the third year of operation and each year thereafter.

(b) Hospitals applying for a pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional center certificate of need must demonstrate that they can meet one hundred ten percent of the minimum volume standards. The applicant hospital must provide data from CHARS demonstrating:

(i) The zip codes served by the applying hospital;

(ii) The percentage of the total hospital admissions for children ages zero through nineteen served by the applying hospital in each of the applicable zip codes during the most recent available three years data. Expired patients will not be counted;

(iii) The number of pediatric heart surgeries, number of therapeutic and diagnostic interventions and invasive electrophysiologic procedures performed in these zip codes during the most recent available three years data. The percentage established in (b)(ii) of this subsection shall then be applied to the number of pediatric heart surgeries, interventions and invasive electrophysiologic procedures. This number must be equal to or greater than one hundred ten percent of the minimum volume standards.

(c) The department will not grant a certificate of need to a new center if:

(i) The new center will reduce any existing center below one hundred ten percent of any one of the minimum volume standards; or

(ii) Reduces the volumes of any existing center that has not yet met any one of the minimum volume standards; or

(iii) Fails to meet any one of the center's minimum volume standards.

(d) At time of initiating the program, and thereafter, the director of the pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional center must be a U.S. board certified pediatric cardiologist.

(e) At time of initiating the program, and thereafter, pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional centers must have at least two U.S. board certified or board eligible cardiac surgeons on the staff. At least one of the required surgeons must be certified by the American Board of Thoracic Surgery. Board eligible status must not extend beyond five years.

(f) The program must provide twenty-four hour coverage.

(g) Hospitals with a pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional center must have plans for facilitating emergency access to heart surgery services at all times for the population they serve. These plans should, at minimum, include arrangements for addressing peak volume periods (such as joint agreements with other programs, the capacity to temporarily increase staffing, etc.), and the maintenance of or affiliation with emergency transportation services (including contingency plans for poor weather and known traffic congestion problems).

(h) Hospitals with a pediatric cardiology surgery and interventional center must provide a copy of the hospital's QI plan that includes/incorporates a section specific to the pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional center.

(i) If a certificate of need is issued, it will be conditioned, at a minimum, to require ongoing compliance with the certificate of need standards. Failure to meet the conditioned standards may be grounds for revocation or suspension of a hospital's certificate of need, or other appropriate licensing or certification action.

(j) In the event two or more centers are competing to meet the same forecasted net need, the department shall consider the following factors when determining which proposal best meets forecasted need:

(i) The most appropriate improvement in geographic access;

(ii) The most cost efficient service;

(iii) Minimizing impact on existing programs;

(iv) Providing the greatest breadth and depth of pediatric cardiovascular and support services; and

(v) Facilitating emergency access to care.

(k) Hospitals granted a certificate of need have three years from the date of initiating the program to meet the center procedure volume standards.

(l) These standards should be reevaluated every three years.

(8) Need forecasting method. The data used for evaluating applications submitted during the concurrent review cycle will be the most recent three years CHARS data available at the close of the application submittal period for that review cycle. Separate forecasts are to be made for heart surgery, interventions and electrophysiological procedures.

(a) Step 1. Compute the planning area's current capacity. When a new center is being established, the assumed volume of that center will be the greater of the actual volume or the minimum volume standards or the estimated volumes described in the approved application, including any adjustments made by the department in the course of review and approval.

(b) Step 2. Compute the percent of out-of-state use of the area's hospitals.

(c) Step 3. Compute the planning area's average age-specific use rates.

(d) Step 4. Multiply the planning area's age-specific use rates by the area's corresponding forecast year population.

The sum of these figures equals the forecasted number of pediatric cardiac surgical and interventional procedures expected to be performed on Washington pediatric residents.

(e) Step 5. Increase the number of pediatric cardiac surgical and interventional procedures expected to occur within the planning area in accordance with the percent of procedures calculated as occurring in those hospitals on out-of-state residents, based on the average of the last three years. This figure equals the total forecasted number of procedures expected to occur within the hospital's planning area.

(f) Step 6. Calculate the net need for additional pediatric cardiac centers by subtracting the current capacity from the total forecasted pediatric cardiac surgical and interventional procedures.

(g) Step 7. The department will not grant a certificate of need for a new center if the need is less than the minimum volume standards. An exception may be made and a certificate of need granted if (g)(i) and (ii) of this subsection can be met:

(i) The applying hospital can meet all the other certificate of need criteria for a pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional treatment center (including documented evidence of capability of achieving the minimum volume standard); and

(ii) At least eighty percent of the results identified in subsection (7)(b)(iii) of this section for pediatric cardiac services received pediatric cardiac services more than seventy-five miles away.

(9) For the purposes of the forecasting method in this section, the following terms have the following specific meanings:

(a) Age-specific categories. The categories used in computing age-specific values will be zero through fourteen, fifteen through nineteen year olds.

(b) Current capacity. The planning area's current capacity for pediatric cardiac surgical and interventional procedures equals the sum of the highest reported annual volume for each hospital with an approved pediatric cardiac surgical and interventional center within the planning area. When a new center is being established, the assumed volumes of that center will be the greater of the actual volume or minimum volume standards or the estimated volumes described in the approved application, including any adjustments made by the department in the course of review and approval.

(c) Forecast year. Pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional service needs shall be based on forecasts for the fourth year after the certificate of need pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional concurrent review process.

(d) Pediatric cardiac surgery and intervention. Pediatric cardiac surgery and intervention means diagnosis related groups (DRGs) 104-111 and 115-116, as developed under the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) contract. All adult cardiac procedures (ages twenty-one and over) are excluded. The department will update the list of codes administratively to reflect future revisions made by CMS to the DRGs to be considered in certificate of need definitions, analyses and decisions. The department's updates to DRGs will be based on the definition of pediatric heart surgery contained in subsection (2) of this section.

(e) Out-of-state use of planning area hospitals. The percent of out-of-state use of hospitals within the planning area will equal the percent of total pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional procedures occurring within the planning area's hospitals that were performed on patients from out-of-state (or on patients whose reported zip codes are invalid). The most recent available three years data will be used to compute out-of-state use of Washington hospitals.

(f) Planning area. For the purpose of pediatric cardiac surgery and intervention, the planning area is the state of Washington.

Use rate. The pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional use rate equals the number of procedures performed on the pediatric residents of the planning area.

(10) The data source for pediatric cardiac surgery and interventional procedures is the comprehensive hospital abstract reporting system (CHARS), office of hospital and patient data, department of health.

(11) The data source for population estimates and forecasts is the office of financial management population trends reports.

WAC 246-310-270 Ambulatory surgery. (1) To receive approval, an ambulatory surgical facility must meet the following standards in addition to applicable review criteria in WAC 246-310-210, 246-310-220, 246-310-230, and 246-310-240.

(2) The area to be used to plan for operating rooms and ambulatory surgical facilities is the secondary health services planning area.

(3) Secondary health services planning areas are: San Juan, Whatcom, East Skagit, Whidbey-Fidalgo, Western North Olympic, East Clallam, East Jefferson, North Snohomish, Central Snohomish, East Snohomish, Southwest Snohomish, Kitsap, North King, East King, Central King, Southwest King, Southeast King, Central Pierce, West Pierce, East Pierce, Mason, West Grays Harbor, Southeast Grays Harbor, Thurston, North Pacific, South Pacific, West Lewis, East Lewis, Cowlitz-Wahkiakum-Skamania, Clark, West Klickitat, East Klickitat, Okanogan, Chelan-Douglas, Grant, Kittitas, Yakima, Benton-Franklin, Ferry, North Stevens, North Pend Oreille, South Stevens, South Pend Oreille, Southwest Lincoln, Central Lincoln, Spokane, Southwest Adams, Central Adams, Central Whitman, East Whitman, Walla Walla, Columbia, Garfield, and Asotin.

(4) Outpatient operating rooms should ordinarily not be approved in planning areas where the total number of operating rooms available for both inpatient and outpatient surgery exceeds the area need.

(5) When a need exists in planning areas for additional outpatient operating room capacity, preference shall be given to dedicated outpatient operating rooms.

(6) An ambulatory surgical facility shall have a minimum of two operating rooms.

(7) Ambulatory surgical facilities shall document and provide assurances of implementation of policies to provide access to individuals unable to pay consistent with charity care levels provided by hospitals affected by the proposed ambulatory surgical facility. The amount of an ambulatory surgical facility's annual revenue utilized to finance charity care shall be at least equal to or greater than the average percentage of total patient revenue, other than medicare or medicaid, that affected hospitals in the planning area utilized to provide charity care in the last available reporting year.

(8) The need for operating rooms will be determined using the method identified in subsection (9) of this section.

(9) Operating room need in a planning area shall be determined using the following method:

(a) Existing capacity.

(i) Assume the annual capacity of one operating room located in a hospital and not dedicated to outpatient surgery is ninety-four thousand two hundred fifty minutes. This is derived from scheduling forty-four hours per week, fifty-one weeks per year (allowing for five weekday holidays), a fifteen percent loss for preparation and clean-up time, and fifteen percent time loss to allow schedule flexibility. The resulting seventy percent productive time is comparable to the previously operating hospital commission's last definition of "billing minutes" which is the time lapse from administration of anesthesia until surgery is completed.

(ii) Assume the annual capacity of one operating room dedicated to ambulatory surgery is sixty-eight thousand eight hundred fifty minutes. The derivation is the same as (a)(i) of this subsection except for twenty-five percent loss for prep/clean-up time and scheduling is for a thirty-seven and one-half hour week. Divide the capacity minutes by the average minutes per outpatient surgery (see (a)(vii) of this subsection). Where survey data are unavailable, assume fifty minutes per outpatient surgery, resulting in a capacity for one thousand three hundred seventy-seven outpatient surgeries per room per year.

(iii) Calculate the total annual capacity (in number of surgeries) of all dedicated outpatient operating rooms in the area.

(iv) Calculate the total annual capacity (in number of minutes) of the remaining inpatient and outpatient operating rooms in the area, including dedicated specialized rooms except for twenty-four hour dedicated emergency rooms. When dedicated emergency operating rooms are excluded, emergency or minutes should also be excluded when calculating the need in an area. Exclude cystoscopic and other special purpose rooms (e.g., open heart surgery) and delivery rooms.

(b) Future need.

(i) Project number of inpatient and outpatient surgeries performed within the hospital planning area for the third year of operation. This shall be based on the current number of surgeries adjusted for forecasted growth in the population served and may be adjusted for trends in surgeries per capita.

(ii) Subtract the capacity of dedicated outpatient operating rooms from the forecasted number of outpatient surgeries. The difference continues into the calculation of (b)(iv) of this subsection.

(iii) Determine the average time per inpatient and outpatient surgery in the planning area. Where data are unavailable, assume one hundred minutes per inpatient and fifty minutes per outpatient surgery. This excludes preparation and cleanup time and is comparable to "billing minutes."

(iv) Calculate the sum of inpatient and remaining outpatient (from (b)(ii) of this subsection) operating room time needed in the third year of operation.

(c) Net need.

(i) If (b)(iv) of this subsection is less than (a)(iv) of this subsection, divide their difference by ninety-four thousand two hundred fifty minutes to obtain the area's surplus of operating rooms used for both inpatient and outpatient surgery.

(ii) If (b)(iv) of this subsection is greater than (a)(iv) of this subsection, subtract (a)(iv) of this subsection from the inpatient component of (b)(iv) of this subsection and divide by ninety-four thousand two hundred fifty minutes to obtain the area's shortage of inpatient operating rooms. Divide the outpatient component of (b)(iv) of this subsection by sixty-eight thousand eight hundred fifty to obtain the area's shortage of dedicated outpatient operating rooms.

WAC 246-310-280 Kidney disease treatment centers—Definitions. The following definitions apply to WAC 246-310-280, 246-310-282, 246-310-284, 246-310-286, 246-310-287, 246-310-288, and 246-310-289:

(1) "Base year" means the most recent calendar year for which December 31 data is available as of the first day of the application submission period from the Northwest Renal Network's Modality Report or successor report.

(2) "Capital expenditures," as defined by Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), are expenditures made to acquire tangible long-lived assets. Long-lived assets represent property and equipment used in a company's operations that have an estimated useful life greater than one year. Acquired long-lived assets are recorded at acquisition cost and include all costs incurred necessary to bring the asset to working order. The definition of a capital expenditure includes the following types of expenditures or acquisitions:

(a) A force account expenditure or acquisition (i.e., an expenditure for a construction project undertaken by a facility as its own contractor).

(b) The costs of any site planning services (architect or other site planning consultant) including but not limited to studies, surveys, designs, plans, working drawings, specifications, and other activities (including applicant staff payroll and employee benefit costs, consulting and other services which, under GAAP or Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) may be chargeable as an operating or nonoperating expense).

(c) Capital expenditure or acquisition under an operating or financing lease or comparable arrangement, or through donation, which would have required certificate of need review if the capital expenditure or acquisition had been made by purchase.

(d) Building owner tenant improvements including but not limited to: Asbestos removal, paving, concrete, contractor's general conditions, contractor's overhead and profit, electrical, heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems (HVAC), plumbing, flooring, rough and finish carpentry and millwork and associated labor and materials, and utility fees.

(e) Capital expenditures include donations of equipment or facilities to a facility.

(f) Capital expenditures do not include routine repairs and maintenance costs that do not add to the utility of useful life of the asset.

(3) "Concurrent review" means the process by which applications competing to provide services in the same planning area are reviewed simultaneously by the department. The department compares the applications to one another and these rules.

(4) "End-of-year data" means data contained in the fourth quarter modality report or successor report from the Northwest Renal Network. For these rules, end-of-year and year-end have the same meaning.

(5) "End-of-year in-center patients" means the number of in-center hemodialysis (HD) and self-dialysis training patients receiving in-center kidney dialysis at the end of the calendar year based on end-of-year data.

(6) "Kidney disease treatment center" means any place, institution, building or agency or a distinct part thereof equipped and operated to provide services, including outpatient dialysis, to persons who have end-stage renal disease (ESRD). In no case shall all stations at a given kidney disease treatment center be designated as self-dialysis training stations. For purposes of these rules, kidney disease treatment center and kidney dialysis facility have the same meaning.

(7) "Kidney dialysis facility" means any place, institution, building or agency or a distinct part thereof equipped and operated to provide services, including outpatient dialysis, to persons who have end-stage renal disease (ESRD). In no case shall all stations at a given kidney disease treatment center be designated as self-dialysis training stations. For purposes of these rules, kidney dialysis facility and kidney disease treatment center have the same meaning.

(8) "Planning area" means an individual geographic area designated by the department for which kidney dialysis station need projections are calculated. For purposes of kidney dialysis projects, planning area and service area have the same meaning.

(9) "Planning area boundaries": Each county is a separate planning area, except for the planning subareas identified for King, Snohomish, Pierce, and Spokane counties. If the United States Postal Service (USPS) changes zip codes in the defined planning areas, the department will update areas to reflect the revisions to the zip codes to be included in the certificate of need definitions, analyses and decisions.

(a) King County is divided by zip code into twelve planning areas as follows:

(10) "Projection year" means the fourth year after the base year. For example, reviews using 2005 year-end data as the base year will use 2009 as the projection year.

(11) "Resident in-center patients" means in-center hemodialysis (HD) and self-dialysis training patients that reside within the planning area. If more than fifty percent of a facility's patients reside outside Washington state, the facility may include these out-of-state patients in the resident count for the planning area.

WAC 246-310-282 Kidney disease treatment centers—Concurrent review cycle. The department will review kidney dialysis facility applications using the concurrent review cycle described in this section. There are four concurrent review cycles each year; a cycle begins in January, April, July and October.

(2) The department should complete a concurrent review cycle within nine months. The department should complete the regular review process within six months.

(3) The department will notify applicants fifteen days prior to the scheduled decision date if it is unable to meet the deadline for making a decision on the application. In that event, the department will establish and commit to a new decision date.

(4) The department will not accept new applications for a planning area if there are any pending applications in that planning area filed under a previous concurrent review cycle or applications submitted prior to the effective date of these rules that affect any of the new planning areas, unless the department has not made a decision on the pending applications within the review timelines of nine months for a concurrent review and six months for a regular review.

(5) The department may convert the review of an application that was initially submitted under a concurrent review cycle to a regular review process if the department determines that the application does not compete with another application.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.38.135. 06-24-050, § 246-310-282, filed 12/1/06, effective 1/1/07.]

WAC 246-310-284 Kidney disease treatment centers—Methodology. A kidney dialysis facility that provides hemodialysis or peritoneal dialysis, training, or backup must meet the following standards in addition to applicable review criteria in WAC 246-310-210, 246-310-220, 246-310-230, and 246-310-240.

(1) Applications for new stations may only address projected station need in the planning area in which the facility is to be located.

(a) If there is no existing facility in an adjacent planning area, the application may also address the projected station need in that planning area.

(b) Station need projections must be calculated separately for each planning area within the application.

(2007 Ed.)

(2) Data used to project station need must be the most recent five-year resident in-center year-end patient data available from the Northwest Renal Network as of the first day of the application submission period, concluding with the base year at the time of application.

(3) Projected station need must be based on 4.8 resident in-center patients per station for all planning areas except Adams, Columbia, Douglas, Ferry, Garfield, Jefferson, Kittitas, Klickitat, Lincoln, Okanogan, Pacific, Pend Oreille, San Juan, Skamania, Stevens, and Wahkiakum counties. The projected station need for these exception planning areas must be based on 3.2 resident in-center patients per station.

(4) The number of dialysis stations projected as needed in a planning area shall be determined by using the following methodology:

(a) Determine the type of regression analysis to be used to project resident in-center station need by calculating the annual growth rate in the planning area using the year-end number of resident in-center patients for each of the previous six consecutive years, concluding with the base year.

(i) If the planning area has experienced less than six percent growth in any of the previous five annual changes calculations, use linear regression to project station need; or

(ii) If the planning area has experienced six percent or greater growth in each of the previous five annual changes, use nonlinear (exponential) regression to project station need.

(b) Project the number of resident in-center patients in the projection year using the regression type determined in (a) of this subsection. When performing the regression analysis use the previous five consecutive years of year-end data concluding with the base year. For example, if the base year is 2005, use year-end data for 2001 through 2005 to perform the regression analysis.

(c) Determine the number of dialysis stations needed to serve resident in-center patients in the planning area in the projection year by dividing the result of (b) of this subsection by the appropriate resident in-center patient per station number from subsection (3) of this section. In order to assure access, fractional numbers are rounded up to the nearest whole number. For example, 5.1 would be rounded to 6. Rounding to a whole number is only allowed for determining the number of stations needed.

(d) To determine the net station need for a planning area, subtract the number calculated in (c) of this subsection from the total number of certificate of need approved stations located in the planning area.

(5) Before the department approves new in-center kidney dialysis stations, all certificate of need approved stations in the planning area must be operating at 4.8 in-center patients per station for all planning areas except Adams, Columbia, Douglas, Ferry, Garfield, Jefferson, Kittitas, Klickitat, Lincoln, Okanogan, Pacific, Pend Oreille, San Juan, Skamania, Stevens, and Wahkiakum counties. For these exception planning areas all certificate of need approved stations in the planning area must be operating at 3.2 in-center patients per station. Both resident and nonresident patients using the dialysis facility are included in this calculation. Data used to make this calculation must be from the most recent quarterly modality report or successor report from the Northwest Renal Network as of the first day of the application submission period.

(6) By the third full year of operation, new in-center kidney dialysis stations must reasonably project to be operating at:

(a) 4.8 in-center patients per station for those facilities required to operate at 4.8 in-center patients as identified in subsection (5) of this section; or

(b) 3.2 in-center patients per station for those facilities required to operate at 3.2 in-center patients as identified in subsection (5) of this section.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.38.135. 06-24-050, § 246-310-284, filed 12/1/06, effective 1/1/07.]

WAC 246-310-286 Kidney disease treatment centers—Standards for planning areas without an existing facility. Adams, Columbia, Douglas, Ferry, Garfield, Jefferson, Kittitas, Klickitat, Lincoln, Pacific, Pend Oreille, San Juan, Skamania, Stevens, and Wahkiakum planning areas do not have an existing kidney dialysis facility as of the effective date of these rules. The department will award the first project proposing to establish a facility in each of these planning areas a minimum of four stations provided the project meets applicable review criteria and standards. The facility must be projected to operate at 3.2 in-center patients per station by the third full year of operation. For purposes of this section, the applicant may supplement data obtained from the Northwest Renal Network with other documented demographic and utilization data to demonstrate station need.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.38.135. 06-24-050, § 246-310-286, filed 12/1/06, effective 1/1/07.]

WAC 246-310-287 Kidney disease treatment centers—Exceptions. The department shall not approve new stations in a planning area if the projections in WAC 246-310-284(4) show no net need, and shall not approve more than the number of stations projected as needed unless:

(1) All other applicable review criteria and standards have been met; and

(2) One or more of the following have been met:

(a) The department finds the additional stations are needed to be located reasonably close to the people they serve; or

(b) Existing dialysis stations in the dialysis facility are operating at six patients per station. Data used to make this calculation must be from the most recent quarterly modality report or successor report from the Northwest Renal Network as of the first day of the application submission period; or

(c) The applicant can document a significant change in ESRD treatment practice has occurred, affecting dialysis station use in the planning area; and

(3) The department finds that exceptional circumstances exist within the planning area and explains the approval of additional stations in writing.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.38.135. 06-24-050, § 246-310-287, filed 12/1/06, effective 1/1/07.]

WAC 246-310-288 Kidney disease treatment centers—Tie-breakers. If two or more applications meet all applicable review criteria and there is not enough station need projected for all applications to be approved, the department will use tie-breakers to determine which application or applications will be approved. The department will approve the application accumulating the largest number of points. If sufficient additional stations remain after approval of the first application, the department will approve the application accumulating the next largest number of points, not to exceed the total number of stations projected for a planning area. If the applications remain tied after applying all the tie-breakers, the department will award stations as equally as possible among those applications, without exceeding the total number of stations projected for a planning area.

(1) The department will award one point per tie-breaker to any applicant that meets a tie-breaker criteria in this subsection.

(a) Training services (1 point):

(i) The applicant is an existing provider in the planning area and either offers training services at the facility proposed to be expanded or offers training services in any of its existing facilities within a thirty-five mile radius of the existing facility; or

(ii) The applicant is an existing provider in the planning area that offers training services in any of its existing facilities within thirty-five miles of the proposed new facility and either intends to offer training services at the new facility or through those existing facilities; or

(iii) The applicant, not currently located in the planning area, proposes to establish a new facility with training services and demonstrates a historical and current provision of training services at its other facilities; and

(iv) Northwest Renal Network's most recent year-end facility survey must document the provision of these training services by the applicant.

(b) Private room(s) for isolating patients needing dialysis (1 point).

(c) Permanent bed stations at the facility (1 point).

(d) Evening shift (1 point): The applicant currently offers, or as part of its application proposes to offer at the facility a dialysis shift that begins after 5:00 p.m.

(e) Meeting the projected need (1 point): Each application that proposes the number of stations that most closely approximates the projected need.

(2) Only one applicant may be awarded a point for each of the following four tie-breaker criteria:

(a) Economies of scale (1 point): Compared to the other applications, an applicant demonstrates its proposal has the lowest capital expenditure per new station.

(b) Historical provider (1 point):

(i) The applicant was the first to establish a facility within a planning area; and

(ii) The application to expand the existing facility is being submitted within five years of the opening of its facility; or

(iii) The application is to build an additional new facility within five years of the opening of its first facility.

(c) Patient geographical access (1 point): The application proposing to establish a new facility within a planning area that will result in services being offered closer to people in need of them. The department will award the point for the facility located farthest away from existing facilities within the planning area provided:

(i) The facility is at least three miles away from the next closest existing facility in planning areas that qualify for 4.8 patients per station; or

(ii) The facility is at least eight miles from the next closest existing facility in planning areas that qualify for 3.2 patients per station.

(d) Provider choice (1 point):

(i) The applicant does not currently have a facility located within the planning area;

(ii) The department will consider a planning area as having one provider when a single provider has multiple facilities in the same planning area;

(iii) If there are already two unrelated providers located in the same planning area, no point will be awarded.

WAC 246-310-289 Kidney disease treatment centers—Relocation of facilities. (1) When an entire facility proposes to relocate to another planning area, a new health care facility is considered to be established under WAC 246-310-020(1).

(2) When an existing facility proposes to relocate a portion of its stations to either another planning area or within the same planning area, a new health care facility is considered to be established under WAC 246-310-020(1).

(3) When an entire facility proposes to relocate within the same planning area, a new health care facility is not considered to be established under WAC 246-310-020(1) if:

(a) The existing facility ceases operation;

(b) No new stations are added to the replacement facility;

(c) There is no break in service between the closure of the existing facility and the operation of the replacement facility;

(d) The existing facility has been in operation for at least five years at its present location; and

(e) The existing facility has not been purchased, sold or leased within the past five years.

WAC 246-310-290 Hospice services—Standards and need forecasting method. The following rules apply to any in-home services agency licensed to provide hospice services which has declared an intent to become Medicare certified as a provider of hospice services in a designated service area.

(1) Definitions.

(a) "ADC" means average daily census and is calculated by:

(i) Multiplying projected annual agency admissions by the most recent average length of stay in Washington (based on Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) data) to derive the total annual days of care; and

(ii) Dividing this total by three hundred sixty-five (days per year) to determine the ADC.

(b) "Current supply of hospice providers" means:

(i) Services of all providers that are licensed and Medicare certified as a provider of hospice services or that have a valid (unexpired) certificate of need but have not yet obtained a license; and

(ii) Hospice services provided directly by health maintenance organizations who are exempt from the certificate of need program. Health maintenance organization services provided by an existing provider will be counted under (b)(i) of this subsection.

(c) "Current hospice capacity" means:

(i) For hospice agencies that have operated (or been approved to operate) in the planning area for three years or more, the average number of admissions for the last three years of operation; and

(ii) For hospice agencies that have operated (or been approved to operate) in the planning area for less than three years, an ADC of thirty-five and the most recent Washington average length of stay data will be used to calculate assumed annual admissions for the agency as a whole for the first three years.

(d) "Hospice agency" or "in-home services agency licensed to provide hospice services" means a person administering or providing hospice services directly or through a contract arrangement to individuals in places of temporary or permanent residence under the direction of an interdisciplinary team composed of at least a nurse, social worker, physician, spiritual counselor, and a volunteer and, for the purposes of certificate of need, is or has declared an intent to become Medicaid eligible or certified as a provider of services in the Medicare program.

(e) "Hospice services" means symptom and pain management provided to a terminally ill individual, and emotional, spiritual and bereavement support for the individual and family in a place of temporary or permanent residence and may include the provision of home health and home care services for the terminally ill individual.

(f) "Planning area" means each individual county designated by the department as the smallest geographic area for which hospice services are projected. For the purposes of certificate of need, a planning or combination of planning areas may serve as the service area.

(g) "Service area" means, for the purposes of certificate of need, the geographic area for which a hospice agency is approved to provide Medicare certified or Medicaid eligible services and which consist of one or more planning areas.

(2) The department shall review hospice applications using the concurrent review cycle in this section, except when the sole hospice provider in the service area ceases operation. Applications to meet this need may be accepted and reviewed in accordance with the regular review process.

(3) Applications must be submitted and reviewed according to the following schedule and procedures:

(a) Letters of intent must be submitted between the first working day and last working day of September of each year.

(b) Initial applications must be submitted between the first working day and last working day of October of each year.

(c) The department shall screen initial applications for completeness by the last working day of November of each year.

(d) Responses to screening questions must be submitted by the last working day of December of each year.

(e) The public review and comment for applications shall begin on January 16 of each year. If January 16 is not a working day in any year, then the public review and comment period must begin on the first working day after January 16.

(f) The public comment period is limited to ninety days, unless extended according to the provisions of WAC 246-310-120 (2)(d). The first sixty days of the public comment period must be reserved for receiving public comments and conducting a public hearing, if requested. The remaining thirty days must be for the applicant or applicants to provide rebuttal statements to written or oral statements submitted during the first sixty-day period. Also, any interested person that:

(i) Is located or resides within the applicant's health service area;

(ii) Testified or submitted evidence at a public hearing; and

(iii) Requested in writing to be informed of the department's decision, shall also be provided the opportunity to provide rebuttal statements to written or oral statements submitted during the first sixty-day period.

(g) The final review period shall be limited to sixty days, unless extended according to the provisions of WAC 246-310-120 (2)(d).

(4) Any letter of intent or certificate of need application submitted for review in advance of this schedule, or certificate of need application under review as of the effective date of this section, shall be held by the department for review according to the schedule in this section.

(5) When an application initially submitted under the concurrent review cycle is deemed not to be competing, the department may convert the review to a regular review process.

(6) Hospice agencies applying for a certificate of need must demonstrate that they can meet a minimum average daily census (ADC) of thirty-five patients by the third year of operation. An application projecting an ADC of under thirty-five patients may be approved if the applicant:

(a) Commits to maintain Medicare certification;

(b) Commits to serve one or more counties that do not have any Medicare certified providers; and

(c) Can document overall financial feasibility.

(7) Need projection. The following steps will be used to project the need for hospice services.

(a) Step 1. Calculate the following four statewide predicted hospice use rates using CMS and department of health data or other available data sources.

(i) The predicted percentage of cancer patients sixty-five and over who will use hospice services. This percentage is calculated by dividing the average number of hospice admissions over the last three years for patients the age of sixty-five and over with cancer by the average number of past three years statewide total deaths sixty-five and over from cancer.

(ii) The predicted percentage of cancer patients under sixty-five who will use hospice services. This percentage is calculated by dividing the average number of hospice admissions over the last three years for patients under the age of sixty-five with cancer by the current statewide total of deaths under sixty-five with cancer.

(iii) The predicted percentage of noncancer patients sixty-five and over who will use hospice services. This percentage is calculated by dividing the average number of hospice admissions over the last three years for patients age sixty-five and over with diagnoses other than cancer by the current statewide total of deaths over sixty-five with diagnoses other than cancer.

(iv) The predicted percentage of noncancer patients under sixty-five who will use hospice services. This percentage is calculated by dividing the average number of hospice admissions over the last three years for patients under the age of sixty-five with diagnoses other than cancer by the current statewide total of deaths under sixty-five with diagnoses other than cancer.

(b) Step 2. Calculate the average number of total resident deaths over the last three years for each planning area.

(c) Step 3. Multiply each hospice use rate determined in Step 1 by the planning areas average total resident deaths determined in Step 2.

(d) Step 4. Add the four subtotals derived in Step 3 to project the potential volume of hospice services in each planning area.

(e) Step 5. Inflate the potential volume of hospice service by the one-year estimated population growth (using OFM data).

(f) Step 6. Subtract the current hospice capacity in each planning area from the above projected volume of hospice services to determine unmet need.

(g) Determine the number of hospice agencies in the proposed planning area which could support the unmet need with an ADC of thirty-five.

(8) In addition to demonstrating need under subsection (7) of this section, hospice agencies must meet the other certificate of need requirements including WAC 246-310-210 - Determination of need, WAC 246-310-220 - Determination of financial feasibility, WAC 246-310-230 - Criteria for structure and process of care, and WAC 246-310-240 - Determination of cost containment.

(9) If two or more hospice agencies are competing to meet the same forecasted net need, the department shall consider at least the following factors when determining which proposal best meets forecasted need:

(a) Improved service in geographic areas and to special populations;

- (b) Most cost efficient and financially feasible service;
- (c) Minimum impact on existing programs;
- (d) Greatest breadth and depth of hospice services;
- (e) Historical provision of services; and
- (f) Plans to employ an experienced and credentialed clinical staff with expertise in pain and symptom management.

(10) Failure to operate the hospice agency in accordance with the certificate of need standards may be grounds for revocation or suspension of an agency's certificate of need, or other appropriate action.

WAC 246-310-295 Hospice care center—Standards.

The following rules apply to any in-home services agency licensed to provide hospice services, that is or has declared an intent to become additionally licensed to provide hospice care center services.

(1) Definitions.

(a) "Applicant" means an in-home services agency licensed to provide hospice services under chapter 246-335 WAC.

(b) "Hospice care center" means a homelike, noninstitutional facility where hospice services are provided, and that meet the requirements for operation under RCW 70.127.280 and chapter 246-335 WAC.

(2) The department shall review hospice care center applications using the concurrent review cycle in this section.

(3) Applications must be submitted and reviewed according to the following schedule and procedures.

(a) Letters of intent must be submitted between the first working day and last working day of October of each year.

(b) Initial applications must be submitted between the first working day and last working day of November of each year.

(c) The department shall screen initial applications for completeness by the last working day of December of each year.

(d) Responses to screening questions must be submitted by the last working day of January of each year.

(e) The public review and comment for applications begins on February 16 of each year. If February 16 is not a working day in any year, then the public review and comment period must begin on the first working day after February 16.

(f) The public comment period is limited to ninety days, unless extended under WAC 246-310-120 (2)(d). The first sixty days of the public comment period must be reserved for receiving public comments and conducting a public hearing, if requested. The remaining thirty days must be for the applicant or applicants to provide rebuttal statements to written or oral statements submitted during the first sixty-day period. Any interested person that:

(i) Is located or resides within the applying hospice agency's health service area;

(ii) Testified or submitted evidence at a public hearing; and

(iii) Requested in writing to be informed of the department's decision, shall also be provided the opportunity to provide rebuttal statements to written or oral statements submitted during the first sixty-day period.

(2007 Ed.)

(g) The final review period is limited to sixty days, unless extended under WAC 246-310-120 (2)(d).

(4) Any letter of intent or certificate of need application submitted for review in advance of this schedule, or certificate of need application under review as of the effective date of this section, shall be held by the department for review according to the schedule in this section.

(5) If an application initially submitted under the concurrent review cycle is deemed not to be competing, the department may convert the review to a regular review process.

(6) An applicant must provide the following documentation to demonstrate that the applicant's existing patient base is sufficient to support the creation of the hospice care center.

(a) Step 1. Determine the average total days of care provided in the applicant's preceding three years of operation. If the applicant has been in operation for less than three years, assume an ADC of thirty-five to calculate potential days of care;

(b) Step 2. Multiply the above average days of care by the applicant's annual percentage of patients requiring care in settings other than their private home to estimate the number of potential patient days. If the applicant has been in operation for less than three years, multiply the potential days of care by the statewide percentage of hospice patients requiring care in settings other than their private home;

(c) Step 3. Divide the estimated number of patient days by three hundred sixty-five (days per year) to estimate the average daily census for the applicant;

(d) Step 4. Assume a minimum occupancy of sixty-five percent to determine the number of beds the applicant could request in their application.

(7) If applying for more beds than provided for in subsection (6) of this section, the applicant must provide documentation, methodology and assumptions that support the applicant's ability to sustain the additional beds.

(8) The following occupancy requirements apply to all applicants:

(a) The average occupancy rate of the beds in the center must be projected to be at least fifty percent for the first three years following completion of the project;

(b) A minimum occupancy rate of sixty-five percent should be maintained after the first three years of operation; and

(c) If applying to add beds to an existing hospice care center the applicant must document that the average occupancy of the beds in the hospice care center was at least eighty percent for the nine months immediately preceding the submittal of the proposal.

(9) The applicant must document that they can maintain the minimum occupancy rate and still meet the following requirements:

(a) No more than forty-nine percent of the hospice agency's patient care days, in the aggregate on a biennial basis, can be provided in the hospice care center, under RCW 70.127.280; and

(b) The maximum number of beds in a hospice care center is twenty, under chapter 70.127 RCW.

(10) Failure to operate the hospice care center in accordance with the application relied upon by the department in making its decision may be grounds for revocation or suspension.

WAC 246-310-360 Nursing home bed need method.

For all applications where the need for nursing home beds is not deemed met as identified in RCW 70.38.115(13), the following mathematical calculation will be used as a guideline and represent only one component of evaluating need:

(1) The department shall calculate the statewide and planning area specific estimated bed need for the projection year by multiplying the estimated statewide and planning area specific resident population for the projection year by the established ratio;

(2) The department shall then calculate the projected current supply ratio statewide and for each planning area. The current supply ratio shall be computed from the most recent bed supply and the projection year estimate of resident population.

(3) The department shall next determine the areas of the state that will be under the established ratio, or over the established ratio in the projection year by comparing each planning area's projected current supply ratio to the established ratio.

(4) The department shall compare the most recent statewide bed supply with the statewide estimated bed need.

(a) If the current statewide bed supply is greater than or equal to the statewide estimated bed need, then calculation of statewide need for new beds ends.

(b) If the current statewide bed supply is less than the statewide estimated bed need, the department shall determine the difference between the statewide estimated bed need and the statewide current bed supply, which shall be called statewide available beds.

(i) If the number of statewide available beds is large enough, the department shall assign to each planning area under the established ratio the number of beds necessary to bring it up to the established ratio in the projection year.

(ii) If the number of statewide available beds is insufficient to assign each planning area under the established ratio the number of new beds necessary to bring it up to the established ratio, the department shall assign to each planning area under the established ratio a proportion of statewide available beds equal to the ratio of that planning area's bed need to reach the established ratio to the total beds required for all planning areas under the established ratio to reach the established ratio in the projection year.

(iii) The department shall not assign more new beds to a planning area than the number which, when added to the planning area's bed supply, will raise the planning area's bed-to-population ratio to the greater of the established ratio and the statewide current ratio.

method and may make changes in accordance with the following process:

(a) The appropriate consumer and provider representatives and the department of social and health services shall be notified of the department's plan to evaluate the projection method and be provided information on the process for participating in the evaluation;

(b) Proposed revisions to the projection method shall be developed in consultation with the responding representatives. An opportunity for public comment on the proposed revisions to the projection method will be provided prior to filing the proposed rules.

(2) When reviewing the projection method the department shall consider the following:

(a) The national bed-to-population ratio and the bed-to-population ratios of other states judged by the aging and adult services administration of the department of social and health services to have reasonable and progressive long-term care policies;

(b) Data and information provided by provider and consumer representatives;

(c) State governmental policy goals for distributing scarce resources between nursing homes and other institutional or community based services;

(d) The effects of developments in the delivery or financing of long-term care services on nursing home bed need; and

(e) Progress in developing other long-term care services for the statewide resident population.

WAC 246-310-380 Nursing home bed need standards.

(1) The department shall use the following rules in conjunction with the certificate of need review criteria contained in WAC 246-310-210(1) for applications proposing the following:

(a) Construction, development, or other establishment of a new nursing home;

(b) Increase in the licensed bed capacity of a nursing home or a hospital long-term care unit;

(c) Change in license category of beds from the following to nursing home or hospital long-term care unit beds:

(i) Acute care, or

(ii) Boarding home care;

(2) The department shall comply with the following time schedule for developing bed need projections:

(a) By the last working day in January of each year, the department shall recalculate the estimated bed projection for each planning-area.

(b) By the last working day in January of each year, the department shall provide the aging and adult services administration of the department of social and health services with the estimated bed need for each planning-area, pending the department's decisions on applications submitted during the previous year's nursing home concurrent review cycles.

(c) By the last working day in January of each year, the department shall rank order planning-areas from lowest to highest by the projected current supply ratio.

(d) By the first working day of June of each year, the department shall calculate the net estimated bed need for each planning-area.

(3) The estimated bed projections for the projection period, listed by planning area will be updated annually and distributed to interested parties. When a planning-area's estimated bed projection is less than the planning-area's bed supply as defined by WAC 246-310-350(4), no beds can be added until the statewide established ratio is reached, except as allowed in this section.

(4) The department shall limit to three hundred the total number of nursing home beds approved for all CCRCs which propose or are operating within a transition period.

(a) These three hundred beds available for CCRCs during transition periods shall be in addition to the net nursing home beds needed in all of the planning-areas.

(b) All nursing home beds approved for CCRCs which propose or are operating within a transition period shall be counted as beds within this three hundred bed limitation unless and until the CCRC fully complies with all provisions of the CCRCs performance standards.

(5) The department shall not issue certificates of need approving more than the net estimated bed need indicated for a given planning-area, unless:

(a) The department finds such additional beds are needed to be located reasonably close to the people they serve; and

(b) The department explains such approval in writing.

WAC 246-310-390 Nursing home bed need adjustments. (1) The department shall use the procedures described in this section to make adjustments to planning area net estimated bed need.

(2) For planning areas for which a nursing home review is scheduled or is ongoing, the department shall use the following procedures to adjust a planning area's net estimated bed need between April tenth or the first working day thereafter and the last working day in January of the following year:

(a) Where an increase in the bed supply of a planning area results in a reduction in net estimated bed need, the department shall use the following procedures:

(i) When a reduction in net estimated bed need occurs prior to the date of beginning of review for the applicable concurrent review cycle, the department shall:

(A) Inform, in writing, all persons from whom the department has received an application and/or a valid letter of intent of the reduction; and

(B) Explain the procedures for withdrawing or amending a certificate of need application.

(ii) When a reduction in net estimated bed need occurs after the date of beginning of review for the applicable concurrent review cycle, the department shall use the need projected at the time the review began in reaching a decision on each affected application.

(2007 Ed.)

(b) Where a decrease in the bed supply of a planning area results in the increase in net estimated bed need, the department shall:

(i) Use the following policies:

(A) If such a decrease in the bed supply would result in a planning area being under the established ratio, the department shall:

(I) Assign to the planning area only enough beds for the planning area to reach the established ratio in the projection year, but not to exceed the number of beds which closed; and

(II) Redistribute any remaining beds to planning areas statewide through the next scheduled recalculation of estimated projections for all planning areas.

(B) If such decrease in the bed supply would not make a planning area under the established ratio, the department shall redistribute any remaining beds to planning areas statewide through the next scheduled recalculation of baseline projections for all planning areas.

(ii) Subject to the provisions of (b)(i) of this subsection, use the following procedures:

(A) When an increase in net estimated bed need can be made prior to the last day on which the department can accept amendments to applications under review, the department shall:

(I) Notify all affected applicants in writing; and

(II) Explain to each affected applicant the procedures for amending a certificate of need application.

(B) When an increase cannot be made prior to the last day on which the department can accept amendments to applications under review, the department shall include the increased net estimated bed need in any subsequent decisions on each affected application or the next applicable concurrent review cycle, whichever occurs first.

(3) For planning areas for which a nursing home review is not scheduled or ongoing, the department shall use the following procedures to adjust a planning area's net estimated bed need between April tenth or the first working day thereafter and the last working day in January of the following year:

(a) If a decrease in the bed supply would make a planning area under the established ratio, the department shall:

(i) Assign to the planning area only enough beds for the planning area to reach the established ratio in the projection year; and

(ii) Redistribute any remaining beds to planning areas statewide through the next scheduled recalculation of baseline projections for all planning areas.

(b) If such decrease in the bed supply would not result in a planning area being under the established ratio, the department shall redistribute any remaining beds to planning areas statewide through the next scheduled recalculation of baseline projections for all planning areas.

home beds to an alternative use, as defined in RCW 70.38.111(8), or reduce the number of beds per room to two or one, or otherwise enhance the quality of life for residents and preserve the right to later convert the original portion of the facility back to skilled nursing care, the nursing home shall give notice of intent to preserve its conversion options to the department of health.

(1) Notice of the nursing homes intent to preserve conversion options shall be given to the department of health no later than thirty days after the effective date of the license modification made by the nursing home licensing authority. Such notices shall be signed by the licensee and include the following:

(a) A description of the alternative service to be provided or a description of how the proposed bed banking will have a direct and immediate benefit to the quality of life of the residents and a listing of the number of beds, by room number;

(b) A projected timeline for implementation; and

(c) In the event the nursing home licensee, as defined by WAC 246-310-010, is not the nursing home owner, the licensee shall document whether the building owner has a secured interest in the beds.

- If the building owner does have a secured interest in the beds, the licensee shall provide a written statement, signed by the building owner, indicating approval of the bed reduction.
- If the building owner does not have a secured interest in the beds, the licensee shall provide documentation showing that the building owner has been notified of the bed reduction.

(2) The department shall notify the nursing home, as to whether the proposal meets the requirements of RCW 70.38.111 (8)(a) and if conversion rights are recognized. The nursing home does not forfeit its right to bank beds under this section if the department does not respond within this thirty-day time frame, nor does the nursing home obtain rights that it otherwise would not have under applicable statutes or rules if the department does not respond within the thirty-day time frame.

(3) The licensee shall notify the department of health at the time the alternative service or services commences.

(6) In the event construction is required to convert beds back to nursing home bed use, notice shall be given to the department of health and department of social and health services a minimum of one year prior to the effective date of

In the event the beds are not converted back to nursing home beds within sixty days of the date stated in the notice of intent, a notice of intent will need to be resubmitted a minimum of one year prior to the effective date of the licensure modification. PART I - GENERAL PROVISIONS

WAC 246-312-010 Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is to implement chapter 332, Laws of 1997, the nonprofit hospital sales review program. The legislature has determined that the state has an interest to assure the continued existence of accessible, affordable health care facilities. To achieve this goal the department of health is responsible for reviewing and approving the acquisition of nonprofit hospitals by for-profit entities. The department may approve an acquisition of a nonprofit hospital only if it determines that the nonprofit hospital has taken appropriate steps to safeguard charitable assets and any proceeds of the acquisition are used for appropriate charitable health and health care purposes.

[Statutory Authority: 1997 c 332 § 14. 97-21-052, § 246-312-010, filed 10/13/97, effective 11/13/97.]

WAC 246-312-020 Definitions. "Acquisition of a non-profit hospital" means an acquisition by a person of an interest in a nonprofit hospital, whether by a purchase, merger, lease, gift, joint venture, or otherwise, that results in a change of ownership or control of twenty percent or more of the assets of the hospital, or that results in the acquiring person holding or controlling fifty percent or more of the assets of the hospital.

This type of acquisition does not include a transaction where the acquiring person:

- Is a nonprofit corporation having a substantially similar charitable health care purpose as the nonprofit corporation from whom the hospital is being acquired, or is a government entity;
- Is exempt from federal income tax under section 501 (c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code or as a government entity; and

 - Medical Emergency Signals installed as follows:
 - When MES is part of a nurse call system, it must register by light at corridor door or treatment area and register by light and audible signal at a location where staff are always available.
 - Call signals initiated by staff within a department by remote or other means must register at a staff control point from which assistance is always available.
 - In areas where PNC are not required, a medical emergency system is a method for staff to signal for immediate assistance. The system must signal where staff are always available and indicate location of emergency.
 - Signal device located within easy reach by staff.

Notes:¹ Recirculating room units meeting the filtering requirements for the space may be used.² The term "trauma room" used in Table 525-3 is the operating room space, in the trauma center routinely used for emergency surgery. The first-aid room and/or "emergency room" used for general initial treatment of accident victims may be ventilated as quoted for the "treatment room."³ The airborne precaution room described in the standards might be used in the average community hospital. The assumption is the precaution procedures will be for infectious patients and the room should also be suitable for normal private patient use when not needed for airborne precaution.⁴ The nonrefrigerated body-holding room would be applicable only for facilities not performing autopsies on-site and using the space for a short period while waiting for body transfer to be completed.⁵ Food preparation centers shall have ventilation systems with an excess of air supply for positive pressure when hoods are not in operation.⁶ The number of air changes may be reduced when areas are not occupied if provisions are made to ensure the number of air changes required is reestablished when the space is occupied.⁷ See WAC 246-320-99902(11) and 296-62-07355 general occupational health standards for ethylene oxide.⁸ Consistent with scope of service and function of room.⁹ For renovations, existing window induction units may remain.¹⁰ May consider increasing air changes to 5 minimum air changes of outdoor air per hour supplied to room and 25 minimum total air changes per hour supplied to room per ASHRAE Guidelines.¹¹ HVAC equipment must be designed to heat or cool to at least temperature shown.Table 525-4 VENTILATION AND AIR CONDITIONING SYSTEMS FILTER EFFICIENCIES IN HOSPITALS

WAC 246-337-001 Scope and purpose. (1) This chapter implements chapter 71.12 RCW and sets the minimum health and safety standards for licensure and operations of twenty-four hour private, county or municipal residential treatment facilities (RTF) providing health care services to persons with mental disorders or substance abuse.

(2) Additionally, these rules apply to residential treatment facilities licensed by the department of health under chapter 71.12 RCW and certified by the department of social and health services under chapter 71.05 RCW (Mental illness), chapter 70.96A RCW (Treatment for alcoholism, intoxication and drug addiction), and chapter 71.34 RCW (Mental health services for minors).

(3) These rules are intended to supplement other applicable federal, state and local laws, rules and ordinances. If any provision of this chapter is more restrictive than local codes and ordinances this chapter shall prevail over any less restrictive provision.

WAC 246-338-080 Quality assurance. Each medical test site performing moderate complexity (including PPMP) or high complexity testing, or any combination of these tests, must establish and follow written policies and procedures for a comprehensive quality assurance program. The quality assurance program must be designed to monitor and evaluate the ongoing and overall quality of the total testing process (preanalytic, analytic, postanalytic). The medical test site's quality assurance program must evaluate the effectiveness of its policies and procedures; identify and correct problems; assure the accurate, reliable, and prompt reporting of test results; and assure the adequacy and competency of the staff. As necessary, the medical test site must revise policies and procedures based upon the results of those evaluations. The medical test site must meet the standards as they apply to the services offered, complexity of testing performed and test results reported, and the unique practices of each testing entity. All quality assurance activities must be documented.

(1) The medical test site must establish and implement a written quality assurance plan, including policies and procedures, designed to:

(a) Monitor, evaluate, and review quality control data, proficiency testing results, and test results, including bianual verification of:

(i) Accuracy of test results for:

(A) Tests that are not covered by proficiency testing;

(B) Tests that are covered by proficiency testing but have unsatisfactory scores, are not scored by the proficiency testing program, or where scoring does not reflect actual test performance (e.g., the proficiency testing program does not obtain the agreement required for scoring); and

(ii) Relationship between test results when the medical test site performs the same test on different instruments or at different locations within the medical test site;

(b) Identify and correct problems;

(c) Establish and maintain accurate, reliable, and prompt reporting of test results;

(d) Verify all tests performed and reported by the medical test site conform to specified performance criteria in quality control under WAC 246-338-090;

(e) Establish and maintain the adequacy and competency of the technical personnel; and

(f) Establish and follow written policies and procedures that ensure positive identification and optimum integrity of a patient's specimen from the time of collection or receipt of the specimen through completion of testing and reporting of results.

(2) The quality assurance plan must include mechanisms or systems to:

(a) Establish and apply criteria for specimen acceptance and rejection;

(b) Notify the appropriate individuals as soon as possible when test results indicate potential life-threatening conditions;

(c) Assess problems identified during quality assurance reviews and discuss them with the appropriate staff;

(d) Evaluate all test reporting systems to verify accurate and reliable reporting, transmittal, storage, and retrieval of data;

(e) Document all action taken to identify and correct problems or potential problems;

(f) Issue corrected reports when indicated;

(g) Provide appropriate instructions for specimen collection, handling, preservation, and transportation;

(h) Ensure that specimens are properly labeled, including patient name or unique patient identifier and, when appropriate, specimen source;

(i) Ensure confidentiality of patient information throughout all phases of the testing process; and

(j) Provide clients updates of testing changes that would affect test results or the interpretation of test results.

(3) The medical test site must establish criteria for and maintain appropriate documentation of any remedial action taken in response to quality control, quality assurance, personnel, proficiency testing, and transfusion reaction investigations.

(4) When results of control or calibration materials fail to meet the established criteria for acceptability, the medical test site must have a system in place to determine if patient test results have been adversely affected. The system must include:

(a) A review of all patient test results obtained in the unacceptable test run; and

(b) A review of all patient test results since the last acceptable test run.

(5) The medical test site must have a system in place to assure:

(a) All complaints and problems reported to the medical test site are documented and investigated when appropriate; and

(b) Corrective actions are instituted as necessary.

(6) The owner must:

(a) Maintain adequate space, facilities, and essential utilities for the performance and reporting of tests;

(b) Ensure that molecular amplification procedures that are not contained in closed systems have a unidirectional workflow. This must include separate areas for specimen preparation, amplification and production detection, and as applicable, reagent preparation;

(c) Establish, make accessible, and observe safety precautions to ensure protection from physical, chemical, biochemical, and electrical hazards and biohazards; and

(d) Establish and implement policies and procedures for infectious and hazardous medical wastes consistent with local, state, and federal authorities.

(7) Information that must be available to authorized persons ordering or utilizing the test results includes:

(a) A list of test methods, including performance specifications;

(b) Reference ranges; and

(c) Test method limitations.

(8) If the medical test site refers specimens to another site for testing, the site to which specimens are referred must have a valid medical test site license or meet equivalent requirements as determined by CMS.

(C) Previously examined negative, reactive, reparative, atypical, premalignant or malignant gynecological cases and previously examined nongynecologic cytology preparations and tissue pathology slides examined by a technical supervisor are not included in the one hundred slide limit;

(D) Each nongynecologic slide preparation made using liquid-based slide preparatory techniques that result in cell dispersion over one-half or less of the total available slide may be counted as one-half slide; and

(E) Records of the total number of slides examined by each individual at all sites during each twenty-four-hour period must be maintained.

(iii) Establish and implement a quality assurance program that ensures:

(A) There is criteria for submission of material;

(B) All providers submitting specimens are informed of these criteria;

(C) All samples submitted are assessed for adequacy;

(D) Records of initial examinations and rescreening results are available and documented;

(E) Rescreening of benign gynecological slides is:

(I) Performed by an individual who meets the personnel requirements for technical or general supervisor in cytology as defined under 42 CFR Part 493 Subpart M;

(II) Completed before reporting patient results on those selected cases;

(III) Performed and documented on:

- No less than ten percent of the benign gynecological slides; and

- Includes cases selected at random from the total case-load and from patients or groups of patients that are identified as having a high probability of developing cervical cancer, based on available patient information;

(F) The technical supervisor:

(I) Confirms all gynecological smears interpreted to be showing reactive or reparative changes, atypical squamous or glandular cells of undetermined significance, or to be in the premalignant (dysplasia, cervical intraepithelial neoplasia or all squamous intraepithelial neoplasia lesions including human papillomavirus-associated changes) or malignant category;

(II) Reviews all nongynecological cytological preparations; and

(III) Establishes, documents, and reassesses, at least every six months, the workload limits for each cytotechnologist;

(G) All cytology reports with a diagnosis of high-grade squamous intraepithelial lesion (HSIL), adenocarcinoma, or other malignant neoplasms are correlated with prior cytology reports and with histopathology reports if available, and the causes of any discrepancies are determined;

(H) Review of all normal or negative gynecological specimens received within the previous five years, if available in the laboratory system, or records of previous reviews, for each patient with a current high grade intraepithelial lesion or moderate dysplasia of CIN-2 or above;

(I) Notification of the patient's physician if significant discrepancies are found that would affect patient care and issuance of an amended report;

(J) An annual statistical evaluation of the number of cytology cases examined, number of specimens processed by specimen type, volume of patient cases reported by diagnosis, number of cases where cytology and histology are discrepant, number of cases where histology results were unavailable for comparison, and number of cases where rescreen of negative slides resulted in reclassification as abnormal; and

(K) Evaluation and documentation of the performance of each individual examining slides against the medical test site's overall statistical values, with documentation of any discrepancies, including reasons for the deviation and corrective action, if appropriate.

(i) Immunohematology/transfusion services.

(B) Labeling and dating must comply with FDA requirements listed under 21 CFR 606 Subpart G, and 610.53.

(C) Storing:

(I) There must be an adequate temperature alarm system that is regularly inspected.

(II) The system must have an audible alarm system that monitors proper blood and blood product storage temperature over a twenty-four-hour period.

(III) High and low temperature checks of the alarm system must be documented.

(D) Collection of heterologous or autologous blood products on-site:

(I) Must register with the FDA; and

(II) Have a current copy of the form FDA 2830 "Blood Establishment Registration and Product Listing."

(iii) Must have an agreement approved by the director for procurement, transfer, and availability to receive products from outside entities.

WAC 246-359-001 Purpose and scope. (1) Purpose.

The purpose of this chapter is to provide minimum requirements to safeguard the health and general welfare of occupants of temporary worker housing by regulating and controlling the design, construction, materials, location and maintenance of all buildings and structures within the authority of chapter 246-358 WAC (the temporary worker housing rules) and this chapter.

(2) Scope. This chapter implements the requirements established by RCW 70.114A.081 and 43.70.337 to provide minimum construction requirements for new, relocated, existing or altered buildings and structures or portions thereof intended for use as temporary worker housing. Such buildings and structures must be licensed by the Washington state department of health under chapter 246-358 WAC and designated as "temporary worker housing occupancies." Buildings and structures which are not licensed, inspected and approved by the department must meet the provisions of the state building code under the local authority having jurisdiction and local ordinances.

(3) "Certification" means the formal contractual agreement between the department and the certified laboratory indicating a laboratory is capable of producing accurate analytical data and is authorized to test drinking water compliance samples. The department will issue a certificate to the laboratory indicating the contaminants the laboratory is authorized to analyze. Certification does not guarantee validity of analytical data submitted by a certified laboratory.

(4) "Certification authority" means the designated official or a representative of the official authorized by the department as the head of the certification program.

(5) "Certification manual" means the most recent revision of the procedural and technical criteria of the drinking water certification rules. This document, entitled "Certification Manual for Laboratories Analyzing Washington State Drinking Water," is available from the Department of Health, Public Health Laboratory, Drinking Water Certification Program, 1610 NE 150th St., Seattle, Washington 98155-7224.

(6) "Certification official (CO)" means the designated official authorized by the department to certify drinking water laboratories.

(7) "Compliance sample" means a drinking water sample collected in accordance with WAC 246-290-300 and/or 246-290-320 and submitted to a state certified laboratory for analysis.

(8) "Department" means the Washington state department of health.

(9) "EMSL-CI" means the EPA Environmental Monitoring and Support Laboratory, Cincinnati, Ohio.

(10) "EMSL-LV" means the EPA Environmental Monitoring System Laboratory, Las Vegas, Nevada.

(16) "Parameter" means a single determination or group of related determinations using a specific written official method.

(17) "Performance evaluation (PE)" means an evaluation of the results of analysis of samples from an external testing source whose true values are unknown to the laboratory conducting the analysis. The external testing service must be approved by the department and/or CO if other than EPA sources are used.

(18) "On-site audit" means an on-site inspection performed by the department to determine a laboratory's capabilities and facilities.

(19) "Quality assurance (QA)" means all those planned and systematic actions necessary to provide confidence that an analysis, measurement, or surveillance program produces data of known and defensible quality.

(2) Failure to demonstrate to the CO that the laboratory has corrected deficiencies identified during an on-site evaluation within:

(a) Three months to correct a procedural or administrative deficiency; and

(b) Six months to correct an equipment deficiency. If the equipment or instrument involved is the only instrument available for a particular analysis, certification may be downgraded immediately, at the discretion of the CO.

(3) Submission of a PE sample to another laboratory for analysis and reporting data as its own.

(4) Failure to use analytical methodology specified in the certification manual.

(5) Failure to submit an appropriate application and associated fees to the department.

(8) Failure to comply with other provisions of the contractual agreement between the department and the laboratory.

(9) Failure to correct deficiencies quoted in a revoked certificate before reapplying for certification.

(10) Failure to permit entry of a CO or CO's representative for an on-site audit to examine methods, facilities, equipment, and analytical data.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 43.20.050. 92-15-152 (Order 290B), § 246-390-050, filed 7/22/92, effective 8/22/92.]

WAC 246-390-060 Reciprocity. The department may recognize certification of an out-of-state laboratory by another primacy state with which the department has an established mutual reciprocity agreement. The laboratory shall submit an application and a fee as specified in WAC 246-390-990; perform approved PE studies; follow the workload requirements; and follow drinking water methods per WAC 246-390-020. A laboratory accepted under the reciprocity agreement shall enter into a contract with the department.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 43.20.050. 92-15-152 (Order 290B), § 246-390-060, filed 7/22/92, effective 8/22/92.]

WAC 246-453-020 Uniform procedures for the identification of indigent persons. For the purpose of identifying those patients that will be classified as indigent persons, all hospitals shall adopt and implement the following procedures:

(1) The initiation of collection efforts directed at the responsible party shall be precluded pending an initial determination of sponsorship status, provided that the responsible party is cooperative with the hospital's efforts to reach an initial determination of sponsorship status;

(a) Collection efforts shall include any demand for payment or transmission of account documents or information which is not clearly identified as being intended solely for the purpose of transmitting information to the responsible party;

(b) The initial determination of sponsorship status shall be completed at the time of admission or as soon as possible following the initiation of services to the patient;

(c) If the initial determination of sponsorship status indicates that the responsible party may meet the criteria for classification as an indigent person, as described in WAC 246-453-040, collection efforts directed at the responsible party will be precluded pending a final determination of that classification, provided that the responsible party is cooperative with the hospital's reasonable efforts to reach a final determination of sponsorship status;

(d) During the pendency of the initial determination of sponsorship status and/or the final determination of the applicability of indigent person criteria, hospitals may pursue reimbursement from any third-party coverage that may be identified to the hospital;

(e) The requirements of this subsection shall not apply to clinics operated by disproportionate share hospitals, as defined and identified by the department of social and health services, medical assistance services, provided that patients are advised of the availability of charity care at the time that services are provided and when presented with a request for payment.

(2) Notice shall be made publicly available that charges for services provided to those persons meeting the criteria established within WAC 246-453-040 may be waived or reduced.

(3) Any responsible party who has been initially determined to meet the criteria identified within WAC 246-453-040 shall be provided with at least fourteen calendar days or such time as the person's medical condition may require, or such time as may reasonably be necessary to secure and to present documentation as described within WAC 246-453-030 prior to receiving a final determination of sponsorship status.

(4) Hospitals must make every reasonable effort to determine the existence or nonexistence of third-party sponsorship that might cover in full or in part the charges for services provided to each patient.

(5) Hospitals may require potential indigent persons to use an application process attesting to the accuracy of the information provided to the hospital for purposes of determining the person's qualification for charity care sponsorship. Hospitals may not impose application procedures for charity care sponsorship which place an unreasonable burden upon the responsible party, taking into account any physical, mental, intellectual, or sensory deficiencies or language barriers which may hinder the responsible party's capability of complying with the application procedures. The failure of a responsible party to reasonably complete appropriate application procedures shall be sufficient grounds for the hospital to initiate collection efforts directed at the patient.

(6) Hospitals may not require deposits from those responsible parties meeting the criteria identified within WAC 246-453-040 (1) or (2), as indicated through an initial determination of sponsorship status.

(7) Hospitals must notify persons applying for charity care sponsorship of their final determination of sponsorship status within fourteen calendar days of receiving information in accordance with WAC 246-453-030; such notification must include a determination of the amount for which the responsible party will be held financially accountable.

(8) In the event that the hospital denies the responsible party's application for charity care sponsorship, the hospital must notify the responsible party of the denial and the basis for that denial.

(9) All responsible parties denied charity care sponsorship under WAC 246-453-040 (1) or (2) shall be provided with, and notified of, an appeals procedure that enables them to correct any deficiencies in documentation or request review of the denial and results in review of the determination by the hospital's chief financial officer or equivalent.

(a) Responsible parties shall be notified that they have thirty calendar days within which to request an appeal of the final determination of sponsorship status. Within the first fourteen days of this period, the hospital may not refer the account at issue to an external collection agency. After the fourteen day period, if no appeal has been filed, the hospital may initiate collection activities.

(b) If the hospital has initiated collection activities and discovers an appeal has been filed, they shall cease collection efforts until the appeal is finalized.

(c) In the event that the hospital's final decision upon appeal affirms the previous denial of charity care designation under the criteria described in WAC 246-453-040 (1) or (2), the responsible party and the department of health shall be notified in writing of the decision and the basis for the decision, and the department of health shall be provided with copies of documentation upon which the decision was based.

(d) The department will review the instances of denials of charity care. In the event of an inappropriate denial of charity care, the department may seek penalties as provided in RCW 70.170.070.

(10) Hospitals should make every reasonable effort to reach initial and final determinations of charity care designation in a timely manner; however, hospitals shall make those designations at any time upon learning of facts or receiving documentation, as described in WAC 246-453-030, indicating that the responsible party's income is equal to or below two hundred percent of the federal poverty standard as adjusted for family size. The timing of reaching a final determination of charity care status shall have no bearing on the identification of charity care deductions from revenue as distinct from bad debts.

(11) In the event that a responsible party pays a portion or all of the charges related to appropriate hospital-based medical care services, and is subsequently found to have met the charity care criteria at the time that services were provided, any payments in excess of the amount determined to be appropriate in accordance with WAC 246-453-040 shall be refunded to the patient within thirty days of achieving the charity care designation.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.170.060. 91-05-048 (Order 142), § 246-453-020, filed 2/14/91, effective 3/17/91.]

WAC 246-453-030 Data requirements for the identification of indigent persons. (1) For the purpose of reaching an initial determination of sponsorship status, hospitals shall rely upon information provided orally by the responsible party. The hospital may require the responsible party to sign a statement attesting to the accuracy of the information provided to the hospital for purposes of the initial determination of sponsorship status.

(2) Any one of the following documents shall be considered sufficient evidence upon which to base the final determination of charity care sponsorship status, when the income information is annualized as may be appropriate:

- (a) A "W-2" withholding statement;
- (b) Pay stubs;
- (c) An income tax return from the most recently filed calendar year;
- (d) Forms approving or denying eligibility for Medicaid and/or state-funded medical assistance;
- (e) Forms approving or denying unemployment compensation; or
- (f) Written statements from employers or welfare agencies.

(3) In the event that the responsible party's identification as an indigent person is obvious to hospital personnel, and the hospital personnel are able to establish the position of the income level within the broad criteria described in WAC 246-453-040 or within income ranges included in the hospital's sliding fee schedule, the hospital is not obligated to establish the exact income level or to request the aforementioned documentation from the responsible party, unless the responsible party requests further review.

(4) In the event that the responsible party is not able to provide any of the documentation described above, the hospital shall rely upon written and signed statements from the responsible party for making a final determination of eligibility for classification as an indigent person.

(5) Information requests, from the hospital to the responsible party, for the verification of income and family size shall be limited to that which is reasonably necessary and readily available to substantiate the responsible party's qualification for charity sponsorship, and may not be used to discourage applications for such sponsorship. Only those facts relevant to eligibility may be verified, and duplicate forms of verification shall not be demanded.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.170.060. 91-05-048 (Order 142), § 246-453-030, filed 2/14/91, effective 3/17/91.]

WAC 246-453-040 Uniform criteria for the identification of indigent persons. For the purpose of identifying indigent persons, all hospitals shall use the following criteria:

(1) All responsible parties with family income equal to or below one hundred percent of the federal poverty standard, adjusted for family size, shall be determined to be indigent persons qualifying for charity sponsorship for the full amount of hospital charges related to appropriate hospital-based medical services that are not covered by private or public third-party sponsorship;

(2) All responsible parties with family income between one hundred one and two hundred percent of the federal poverty standard, adjusted for family size, shall be determined to be indigent persons qualifying for discounts from charges related to appropriate hospital-based medical services in accordance with the hospital's sliding fee schedule and policies regarding individual financial circumstances;

(3) Hospitals may classify any individual responsible party whose income exceeds two hundred percent of the federal poverty standard, adjusted for family size, as an indigent person eligible for a discount from charges based upon that responsible party's individual financial circumstances.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.170.060. 91-05-048 (Order 142), § 246-453-040, filed 2/14/91, effective 3/17/91.]

WAC 246-453-050 Guidelines for the development of sliding fee schedules. All hospitals shall, within ninety days of the adoption of these rules, implement a sliding fee schedule for determination of discounts from billed charges for responsible parties meeting the criteria in WAC 246-453-040(2). These sliding fee schedules must be made available upon request.

(1) In developing these sliding fee schedules, hospitals shall consider the following guidelines:

(a) The sliding fee schedule shall consider the level of charges that are not covered by any public or private sponsorship in relation to or as a percentage of the responsible party's family income;

(b) The sliding fee schedule shall determine the maximum amount of charges for which the responsible party will be expected to provide payment, with flexibility for hospital management to hold the responsible party accountable for a lesser amount after taking into account the specific financial situation of the responsible party;

(c) The sliding fee schedule shall take into account the potential necessity for allowing the responsible party to satisfy the maximum amount of charges for which the responsible party will be expected to provide payment over a reasonable period of time, without interest or late fees; and

(d) Hospital policies and procedures regarding the sliding fee schedule shall specify the individual financial circumstances which may be considered by appropriate hospital personnel for purposes of adjusting the amount resulting from the application of the sliding fee schedule, such as:

(i) Extraordinary nondiscretionary expenses relative to the amount of the responsible party's medical care expenses;

(ii) The existence and availability of family assets, which may only be considered with regard to the applicability of the sliding fee schedule;

(iii) The responsible party's future income earning capacity, especially where his or her ability to work in the future may be limited as a result of illness; and

(iv) The responsible party's ability to make payments over an extended period of time.

(2) Examples of sliding fee schedules which address the guidelines in the previous subsection are:

(a) A person whose annual family income is between one hundred one and two hundred percent of the federal poverty standard, adjusted for family size, shall have his/her hospital charges that are not covered by public or private sponsorship limited to forty percent of the excess of that person's annual family income over one hundred percent of the federal poverty standard, adjusted for family size. This responsibility may be adjusted by appropriate hospital personnel after taking into consideration the individual financial circumstances of the responsible party. The responsible party's financial obligation which remains after the application of this sliding fee schedule may be payable in monthly installments over a reasonable period of time, without interest or late fees, as negotiated between the hospital and the responsible party.

(b) A person whose family income is between one hundred one and two hundred percent of the federal poverty standard, adjusted for family size, shall have his/her hospital charges that are not covered by public or private sponsorship reduced according to the schedule below. The resulting responsibility may be adjusted by appropriate hospital personnel after taking into consideration the individual financial circumstances of the responsible party. The responsible party's financial obligation which remains after the application of this sliding fee schedule may be payable in monthly installments over a reasonable period of time, without interest or late fees, as negotiated between the hospital and the responsible party. The schedule is as follows:

INCOME AS A PERCENTAGE OF FEDERAL POVERTY LEVEL	PERCENTAGE DISCOUNT
One hundred one to one hundred thirty-three	Seventy-five percent
One hundred thirty-four to one hundred sixty-six	Fifty percent
One hundred sixty-seven to two hundred	Twenty-five percent

(3) The provisions of this section and RCW 70.170.060 (5) shall not apply to the professional services of the hospital's medical staff, provided that the charges for such services are either submitted by the individual medical staff or are separately identified within the hospital's billing system.

[Statutory Authority: Chapters 43.070 [43.70] and 70.170 RCW. 94-12-089, § 246-453-050, filed 6/1/94, effective 7/2/94. Statutory Authority: RCW 70.170.060. 91-05-048 (Order 142), § 246-453-050, filed 2/14/91, effective 3/17/91.]

WAC 246-453-060 Denial of access to emergency care based upon ability to pay and transfer of patients with emergency medical conditions or active labor. (1) No hospital or its medical staff shall adopt or maintain admission practices or policies which result in:

(a) A significant reduction in the proportion of patients who have no third-party coverage and who are unable to pay for hospital services;

(b) A significant reduction in the proportion of individuals admitted for inpatient hospital services for which payment is, or is likely to be, less than the anticipated charges for or costs of such services; or

(c) The refusal to admit patients who would be expected to require unusually costly or prolonged treatment for reasons other than those related to the appropriateness of the care available at the hospital.

(2007 Ed.)

(2) No hospital shall adopt or maintain practices or policies which would deny access to emergency care based on ability to pay. No hospital which maintains an emergency department shall transfer a patient with an emergency medical condition or who is in active labor unless the transfer is performed at the request of the patient or is due to the limited medical resources of the transferring hospital. Hospitals must follow reasonable procedures in making transfers to other hospitals including confirmation of acceptance of the transfer by the receiving hospital.

(3) The department shall monitor hospital compliance with subsections (1) and (2) of this section. The department shall report to the legislature and the governor on hospital compliance with these requirements and shall report individual instances of possible noncompliance to the state attorney general or the appropriate federal agency. For purposes of monitoring compliance with subsection (2) of this section, the department is to follow all definitions and requirements of federal law.

(4) Except as required by federal law and subsection (2) of this section, nothing in this section shall be interpreted to indicate that hospitals and their medical staff are required to provide appropriate hospital-based medical services, including experimental services, to any individual.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 70.170.060. 91-05-048 (Order 142), § 246-453-060, filed 2/14/91, effective 3/17/91.]

WAC 246-453-070 Standards for acceptability of hospital policies for charity care and bad debts. (1) Each hospital shall develop, and submit to the department, charity care policies, procedures, and sliding fee schedules consistent with the requirements included in WAC 246-453-020, 246-453-030, 246-453-040, and 246-453-050. Any subsequent modifications to those policies, procedures, and sliding fee schedules must be submitted to the department no later than thirty days prior to their adoption by the hospital.

(2) Each hospital shall develop, and submit to the department, bad debt policies and procedures, including reasonable and uniform standards for collection of the unpaid portions of hospital charges that are the patient's responsibility. These standards are to be part of each hospital's system of accounts receivable management manuals, which support hospital collection policies. Manuals should cover procedures for preadmission, admission, discharge, outpatient registration and discharge, billing, and credit and collections. All subsequent modifications to these bad debt policies must be submitted to the department no later than thirty days prior to their adoption by the hospital.

(3) The department shall review the charity care and bad debt policies and procedures submitted in accordance with the provisions of this section. If any of the policies and procedures do not meet the requirements of this section or WAC 246-453-020, 246-453-030, 246-453-040, or 246-453-050, the department shall reject the policies and procedures and shall so notify the hospital. Such notification shall be in writing, addressed to the hospital's chief executive officer or equivalent, and shall specify the reason(s) that the policies and procedures have been rejected. Any such notification must be mailed within fourteen calendar days of the receipt of the hospital's policies and procedures. Within fourteen days of the date of the rejection notification, the hospital shall revise and resubmit the policies and procedures.

The department may grant extensions of time to file the reports, in which cases failure to file the reports shall not constitute a violation until the extension period has expired.

(2) Failure to comply with other provisions of chapter 70.170 RCW, and chapter 246-453 WAC, shall result in civil penalties as provided within RCW 70.170.070(2), with the exception that the terms "not exceeding" and "not to exceed" will be read to mean "of."

WAC 246-491-001 Purpose. RCW 70.58.055 requires certificates for vital records to include, at a minimum, items recommended by the federal agency responsible for national vital statistics. RCW 70.58.055 allows the state board of health to require additional information for the confidential section of the birth certificate, and eliminate items from the federal forms that it identifies as not necessary for statistical study.

RCW 43.70.160 requires the state registrar to prepare, print and supply the forms for registering, recording, and preserving vital statistics. These rules identify the forms used and information collected by the state on live birth, death, fetal death, marriage, divorce, dissolution of marriage and annulment.

WAC 246-562-020 Authority to sponsor visa waivers. (1) The department of health may assist communities to recruit and retain physicians, or other health care professionals, as directed in chapter 70.185 RCW, by exercising an option provided in federal law, 8 U.S.C. Sec. 1184(l) as amended by Public Law 108-441 and 22 C.F.R. 514.44(e). This option allows the department of health to sponsor a limited number of visa waivers each federal fiscal year if certain conditions are met.

(2) The department may acknowledge sponsorship proposed by federal agencies, including the United States Department of Health and Human Services.

(3) The department may carry out a visa waiver program, or, in the event of resource limitations or other considerations, may discontinue the program. Purposes of the program are:

(a) To increase the availability of physician services in existing federally designated shortage areas for health care facilities that have long standing vacancies;

(b) To improve access to physician services for communities and specific underserved populations that are having difficulty finding physician services;

(c) To serve Washington communities which have identified a physician currently holding a J-1 visa as an ideal candidate to meet the community's need for primary health care services or specialist services as allowed by WAC 246-562-080.

(4) The department may only sponsor a visa waiver request when:

(a) The application contains all of the required information and documentation;

(b) The application meets the criteria contained in chapter 246-562 WAC.

(5) The department will limit its activities:

(a) Prior to submission of an application, the department may provide information on preparing a complete application;

(b) For applicants that have benefited from department sponsorship previously, the applicant's history of compliance will be a consideration in future sponsorship decisions;

(c) Because the number of sponsorships the department may provide is limited, and because the number of shortage areas is great, sponsorship will be limited. In any single program year, a health care facility in any one designated health professional shortage area or medically underserved area:

(i) Will not be allotted more than two sponsorships;

(ii) Will not be allotted more than one specialist sponsorship as allowed by WAC 246-562-080(4); and

(iii) Will not be allotted more than one hospitalist sponsorship per hospital;

(d) In any given program year twenty of the federally allocated sponsorships will be allotted for primary care physicians and ten of the federally allocated sponsorships will be allotted for specialists through March 31. Any waiver sponsorships that remain unfilled on April 1 of each program year will be available to:

(i) Both primary care and specialist physicians consistent with the provisions of this chapter; and

(ii) Physicians intending to practice in nondesignated shortage areas in health care facilities that meet the criteria in WAC 246-562-075.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 70.185 RCW and Public Law 108-441. 06-07-035, § 246-562-020, filed 3/8/06, effective 4/8/06. Statutory Authority: Chapter 70.185 RCW. 03-19-054, § 246-562-020, filed 9/11/03, effective 10/12/03; 00-15-082, § 246-562-020, filed 7/19/00, effective 8/19/00; 98-20-067, § 246-562-020, filed 10/2/98, effective 11/2/98.]

WAC 246-562-040 Principles that will be applied to the visa waiver program. (1) The visa waiver program is considered a secondary source for recruiting qualified physicians. It is not a substitute for broad recruiting efforts for graduates from U.S. medical schools.

(2) Sponsorship may be offered to health care facilities that can provide evidence of sustained active recruitment for the vacancy in the practice location with a physician who has specific needed skills.

(3) Sponsorship is intended to support introduction of physicians into practice settings that promote continuation of the practice beyond the initial contract period.

(4) Sponsorship will be for an employment situation where there is community support and a collegial professional environment.

(5) The visa waiver program will be used to assist health care facilities that provide care to all residents of the federally designated under-served area. When a federal designation is for an under-served population, the health care facility must provide care to the under-served population.

(6) Sponsorship is available to health care facilities that can document the provision of needed services, regardless of public or private ownership.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 70.185 RCW. 98-20-067, § 246-562-040, filed 10/2/98, effective 11/2/98.]

WAC 246-562-050 Review criteria. Applicants and physicians must meet the criteria established in 8 U.S.C. 1184(l) as amended by Public Law 108-441 and 22 C.F.R. Sec. 514.44(e) which are incorporated by reference. Copies of these provisions may be requested from the department by writing to the Washington State Department of Health, Office of Community and Rural Health, Visa Waiver Program, PO Box 47834, Olympia, WA 98504-7834.

The criteria set out in chapter 246-562 WAC must also be met.

(4) Applicants must provide documentation demonstrating that the employer made a good faith effort to recruit a qualified graduate of a United States medical school for a physician vacancy in the same salary range. Active recruitment, specific to the location and physician specialty, must be for a period of not less than six months in the twelve months prior to submitting a visa waiver application to the department. Active recruitment documentation can include one or more of the following:

- (a) Meet state and federal requirements throughout the period of obligation, regardless of physician's visa status;

The department will complete review and approval of such amendments within thirty calendar days of receipt.

(7) Applicants must pay the physician prevailing wage as determined and approved by U.S. Department of Labor. Approval must be documented on a U.S. Department of Labor form ETA 9035 signed by an authorized official.

(8) If the applicant has previously requested sponsorship of a physician, WAC 246-562-020 will apply.

(9) If the applicant is not a publicly funded provider, additional criteria apply. The applicant must provide documentation of notification of intent to submit application for J-1 visa physician waiver to all publicly funded providers who provide medical care in HPSA or MUA designated area. Publicly funded providers include, but are not limited to, public hospital districts, local health departments, or community and/or migrant health centers.

Notification must:

- (a) Be sent at least thirty days prior to submitting the application to the department;

(b) Include a statement giving the publicly funded providers thirty days to provide comment to the department regarding the J-1 physician visa application; and

(a) A federally designated primary care health professional shortage area(s); or

(b) A federally designated mental health professional shortage area(s) for psychiatrists; or

(c) A federally designated whole-county medically underserved area(s); or

(d) A combination of federally designated areas.

(2) If the federal designation is based on a specific population, the health care facility must serve the designated population.

(3) If the practice location is in both a population designation area and a medically underserved area, the designated population must be served.

(4) If the practice location is not located in a federally designated shortage area or whole-county medically underserved area, the applicant must meet the criteria in WAC 246-562-075.

(5) The health care facility named in the visa waiver application may be an existing practice location or a new practice location. If a new practice location is planned, additional criteria apply. New practice locations must:

(a) Have the legal, financial, and organizational structure necessary to provide a stable practice environment, and must provide a business plan that supports this information;

WAC 246-650-001 Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is to establish board rules to detect, in newborns, congenital disorders leading to developmental impairment or physical disabilities as required by RCW 70.83.050 and to provide protections for the confidentiality of information and human biological specimens submitted pursuant to these requirements.

[Statutory Authority: Chapters 70.83, 43.20 RCW. 03-24-026, § 246-650-001, filed 11/24/03, effective 12/25/03. WAC 246-650-010 Definitions. For the purposes of this chapter:

- (1) "Board" means the Washington state board of health.
- (2) "Biotinidase deficiency" means a deficiency of an enzyme (biotinidase) that facilitates the body's recycling of biotin. The result is biotin deficiency, which if undetected and untreated, may result in severe neurological damage or death.
- (3) "Congenital adrenal hyperplasia" means a severe disorder of adrenal steroid metabolism which may result in death of an infant during the neonatal period if undetected and untreated.
- (4) "Congenital hypothyroidism" means a disorder of thyroid function during the neonatal period causing impaired mental functioning if undetected and untreated.
- (5) "Cystic fibrosis" means a life-shortening disease caused by mutations in the gene encoding the cystic fibrosis transmembrane conductance regulator (CFTR), a transmembrane protein involved in ion transport. Affected individuals suffer from chronic, progressive pulmonary disease and nutritional deficits. Early detection and enrollment in a comprehensive care system provides improved outcomes and avoids the significant nutritional and growth deficits that are evident when diagnosed later.
- (6) "Department" means the Washington state department of health.
- (7) "Galactosemia" means a deficiency of enzymes that help the body convert the simple sugar galactose into glucose resulting in a buildup of galactose and galactose-1-PO₄ in the blood. If undetected and untreated, accumulated galactose-1-PO₄ may cause significant tissue and organ damage often leading to sepsis and death.
- (8) "Hemoglobinopathy" means a hereditary blood disorder caused by genetic alteration of hemoglobin which results in characteristic clinical and laboratory abnormalities and which leads to developmental impairment or physical disabilities.
- (9) "Homocystinuria" means deficiency of enzymes necessary to break down or recycle the amino acid homocysteine resulting in a buildup of methionine and homocysteine. If undetected and untreated may cause thromboembolism, mental and physical disabilities.
- (10) "Maple syrup urine disease" (MSUD) means deficiency of enzymes necessary to breakdown the branch chained amino acids leucine, isoleucine, and valine resulting in a buildup of these and metabolic intermediates in the blood. If undetected and untreated may result in mental and physical retardation or death.

[Title 246 WAC—p. 977]

(11) "Medium chain acyl-coA dehydrogenase deficiency" (MCADD) means deficiency of an enzyme (medium chain acyl-coA dehydrogenase) necessary to breakdown medium chain length fatty acids. If undetected and untreated, fasting, infection or stress may trigger acute hypoglycemia leading to physical and neurological damage or death.

(12) "Newborn" means an infant born in a hospital in the state of Washington prior to discharge from the hospital of birth or transfer.

(13) "Newborn screening specimen/information form" means the information form provided by the department including the filter paper portion and associated dried blood spots. A specimen/information form containing patient information is "Health care information" as defined by the Uniform Healthcare Information Act, RCW 70.02.010(6).

(14) "Phenylketonuria" (PKU) means a deficiency of an enzyme necessary to convert the amino acid phenylalanine into tyrosine resulting in a buildup of phenylalanine in the blood. If undetected and untreated may cause severely impaired mental functioning.

(15) "Significant screening test result" means a laboratory test result indicating a suspicion of abnormality and requiring further diagnostic evaluation of the involved infant for the specific disorder.

WAC 246-680-010 Definitions. For the purpose of this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Department" means the Washington state department of health.

(2) "Health care providers" means persons licensed or certified by the state of Washington under Title 18 RCW to provide prenatal care or to practice medicine and qualified genetic counselors.

(3) "Prenatal carrier testing" means a procedure to remove blood or other tissue from one or both parents in order to perform laboratory analysis to establish chromosome constitution or genetic carrier status of the parents.

(4) "Prenatal test" means any test to predict congenital or heritable disorders that may harm or endanger the health, safety, or welfare of members of the public if improperly utilized and includes preprocedure and postprocedure genetic counseling, laboratory tests, and procedures as follows:

(a) Maternal serum marker screening is a procedure involving obtaining blood from a pregnant woman during the fifteenth to twenty-second week of gestation, in order to measure through laboratory tests the level of certain analytes that are associated with increased risks to the fetus or pregnancy such as alpha-fetoprotein, unconjugated estriol, human gonadotropin, inhibin, and/or PAPP-A.

(b) Maternal hepatitis B surface antigen (HBsAg) screening is a procedure involving obtaining blood from a pregnant woman during the first trimester of pregnancy to test for maternal hepatitis B infection. HBsAg screening should be repeated during the last trimester of pregnancy if a woman is at high risk for hepatitis B infection.

(c) Group B strep screening per vaginorectal culture at 35-37 weeks gestation is used to screen pregnant women for Group B strep colonization. The swab culture specimen must be grown in selective broth media.

(d) Amniocentesis is a procedure performed after fourteen weeks of gestation to remove a small amount of amniotic fluid from the uterus of a pregnant woman, in order to perform one or more of the following laboratory tests:

- (i) Measure the level of alpha-fetoprotein;
- (ii) Measure the level of acetylcholinesterase;
- (iii) Cytogenetic studies on fetal cells including fluorescent in-situ hybridization (FISH) if indicated;
- (iv) Biochemical studies on fetal cells or amniotic fluid;
- (v) Deoxyribonucleic Acid (DNA) studies on fetal cells including fetal genotyping for isoimmunization studies; and
- (vi) Infectious disease studies.

(e) Chorionic villus sampling is a procedure performed from ten to twelve weeks of gestation to remove a small amount of cells from the developing placenta, in order to perform one or more of the following laboratory tests:

- (i) Cytogenetic studies on fetal cells including fluorescent in-situ hybridization (FISH) if indicated;
- (ii) Biochemical studies on fetal cells; and
- (iii) DNA studies on fetal cells.

(f) Percutaneous umbilical cord blood sampling is a procedure performed typically after fifteen weeks of gestation to obtain blood from the fetus, in order to perform one or more of the following laboratory tests:

- (i) Cytogenetic studies including fluorescent in-situ hybridization (FISH) if indicated;
- (ii) Viral titer studies;
- (iii) Fetal blood typing for isoimmunization studies;
- (iv) Prenatal diagnostic tests for hematological disorders;

(v) DNA studies on fetal cells;

(vi) Biochemical studies on fetal blood.

(g) Prenatal ultrasonography is a procedure performed at any time during pregnancy resulting in visualization of the uterus, the placenta, the fetus, and internal structures through use of sound waves.

(h) "Preprocedure genetic counseling" means individual counseling, which may be part of another procedure or service, involving a health care provider or a qualified genetic counselor under the direction of a physician, and a pregnant woman with or without other family members, to assess and identify increased risks for congenital abnormalities or pregnancy complications, offer specific carrier or diagnostic tests, discuss the purposes, risks, accuracy, and limitations of a prenatal testing procedure, aid in decision making and to assist in obtaining the desired testing or procedure.

(i) "Postprocedure genetic counseling" means, when test results are available, individual counseling, which may be part of another procedure or service, involving a health care provider or a qualified genetic counselor under the direction of a physician and a pregnant woman with or without other family members, to discuss the results of the prenatal tests done, any further testing or procedures available and/or referrals for further consultation or counseling.

(j) "Qualified genetic counselor" means an individual eligible for certification or certified as defined by the American Board of Medical Genetics, Inc., or the American Board of Genetic Counseling.

WAC 246-680-020 Board of health standards for screening and diagnostic tests during pregnancy. (1) For the purpose of RCW 48.21.244, 48.44.344, and 48.46.375, the following are standards of medical necessity for insurers, health care service contractors, and health maintenance organizations to use when authorizing requests or claims for prenatal screening and/or diagnosis without the requirement of a case-by-case determination and including preprocedure and postprocedure genetic counseling:

(a) Maternal serum marker screening for all pregnant women beginning prenatal care before the twentieth completed week of gestation.

(b) Maternal hepatitis B surface antigen (HBsAg) screening for all pregnant women during the first trimester of pregnancy and the last trimester of pregnancy if the woman is at high risk for hepatitis B infection.

(c) Information about Group B strep should be provided to all pregnant women, including the risk to the newborn, if the woman is identified through screening as potentially colonized with Group B strep. Screening is done through prenatal vaginorectal cultures, although specific clinical indicators may preclude screening. Pregnant women who are currently colonized with Group B strep, or who have unknown Group B strep status should receive intrapartum treatment in accordance with the current standard of practice in order to reduce risk to the newborn.

(d) Prenatal ultrasonography if one or more of the following criteria are met:

(i) A woman undergoing amniocentesis, chorionic villus sampling, or percutaneous umbilical cord blood sampling or fetal tissue biopsy;

(ii) The results of a maternal serum marker screening test indicate an increased risk to the fetus or pregnancy;

(iii) A woman or the biological father of the fetus has a personal or family history of a congenital abnormality detectable by prenatal ultrasound;

(iv) An increased risk of a congenital abnormality is present due to an environmental exposure including maternal exposure to alcohol; or

(v) A medical evaluation indicates the possibility of polyhydramnios or oligohydramnios.

(e) Amniocentesis if one or more of the following criteria are met:

(i) A woman is thirty-five years of age or older at the time of delivery;

(ii) A woman or the biologic father of the fetus has a previous child or fetus with a chromosomal abnormality or other prenatally diagnosable disorder;

(iii) A woman or the biologic father of the fetus has a family history that includes birth defects or developmental delays;

(iv) A woman or the biologic father of the fetus is a carrier of a chromosomal rearrangement;

(v) A woman and/or the biologic father of the fetus are carriers of, or affected with, a prenatally diagnosable inherited disorder;

(vi) The results of a maternal serum marker screening test indicate an increased risk to the pregnancy or fetus;

(vii) A woman has a documented history of three or more miscarriages of unknown cause when circumstances prevent parental chromosomal testing;

(viii) There is an ultrasound diagnosis of fetal anomaly;

(ix) A medical evaluation indicates an increased risk of fetal infection;

(x) Fetal blood studies are indicated for isoimmunization studies or therapy.

(f) Chorionic villus sampling with preprocedure and postprocedure genetic counseling if one or more of the following criteria are met:

(i) A woman is thirty-five years of age or older at the time of delivery;

(ii) A woman or the biologic father of the fetus has a previous child or fetus with a chromosomal abnormality or other prenatally diagnosable inherited disorder;

(iii) A woman or the biologic father of the fetus is a carrier of a chromosomal rearrangement;

(iv) A woman or the biologic father of the fetus is a carrier of, or affected with, a prenatally diagnosable inherited disorder;

(2007 Ed.)

(v) A woman has a documented history of three or more miscarriages of unknown cause when circumstances prevent parental chromosomal testing; or

(vi) Fetal genotyping is indicated to determine risks for isoimmunization.

(g) Fluorescent in-situ hybridization (FISH) if a medical evaluation indicates a rapid or specific submicroscopic chromosomal diagnosis is required to predict the prognosis for the fetus.

(2) The board recommends the following additional procedures for use by insurers, health service contractors, and health maintenance organizations in determining medical necessity on a case-by-case basis:

(a) Percutaneous umbilical cord blood sampling with preprocedure and postprocedure genetic counseling if one or more of the following criteria are met:

(i) A medical evaluation indicates rapid or specific submicroscopic chromosomal diagnosis or DNA diagnosis is required to predict prognosis for the fetus;

(ii) A medical evaluation indicates the possibility of a prenatally diagnosable fetal infection;

(iii) Fetal blood studies are medically indicated for isoimmunization studies or therapy;

(iv) Fetal blood is the only means to provide biochemical genetic diagnosis;

(v) Prenatal diagnosis of a hematological disorder is medically indicated.

(b) Prenatal tissue biopsy if the nature of the disorder in question indicates that fetal liver, skin, or other tissue biopsy is the only means to provide biochemical genetic diagnosis to protect the health of the mother or predict the prognosis of the fetus.

currently available to retailers, and has been available to retailers for at least one year;

(d) The WIC program periodically surveys local WIC agency staff and clients for their recommendations regarding need and demand for the food;

(e) The WIC program reviews data and recommendations and notifies the food company whether or not a food is approved.

(2) Food companies must notify the WIC program in writing of any changes in product formulation, product name, packaging, label design, size, or availability. A food company must notify the WIC program of any changes before any Washington state wholesaler, distributor, or supplier receives the new product.

(3) If a food company fails to notify the WIC program of any changes, the WIC program may revoke or deny WIC approval of the product.

(4) The WIC program may require a food company to submit a statement guaranteeing a minimum period of time during which a food will be available in the state of Washington.

(5) The WIC program refuses to approve any food that contradicts the nutrition principles promoted by the WIC program.

(6) The WIC program may limit the number of approved foods within a food category.

(7) The WIC program may reassess any WIC approved food at any time.

WAC 246-790-070 How do I become a WIC retailer?

(1) Retailers interested in participating in the WIC program must apply for authorization.

(2) Applications for WIC authorization are accepted during the open application period held before the start of each new contract cycle. Exceptions to this time frame are considered when a WIC authorized retailer closes or ownership changes. Exceptions are based solely on the program's determination of program need and effective administration of the program. The WIC program may further limit acceptance of new applications as needed.

(3) The WIC program may require applicant retailers to provide shelf price records and inventory records showing all purchases, both wholesale and retail, including but not limited to, wholesale receipts, cash and carry receipts, purchase orders, books of account, invoices that identify the quantity and prices of specific WIC foods and other pertinent records that substantiate shelf prices and where, when, and how much of each item was purchased. Records without specific identification of the name of the business where the food was purchased, the date purchased, the quantity, unit price, and name of food purchased are not acceptable as evidence.

(4) The WIC program conducts on-site preauthorization visits to verify the information provided on the application, to evaluate the shelf prices and inventory of WIC foods, and to provide training on WIC requirements.

(5) The WIC program will not offer a contract to a retailer if, during the on-site preauthorization visit, they are unable to satisfactorily verify the information provided on the application or the retailer fails to participate in the initial training offered.

(6) The WIC program authorizes a sufficient number, type, and distribution of retailers to meet program need and effectively administer the program.

(7) The WIC program will not authorize for-profit WIC only stores.

(8) Per 7 CFR 246.12 (h)(3)(xxi), WIC program authorization is not a right or property interest. Authorization is discretionary and is based solely on the WIC program's determination of program need and effective administration of the program.

(9) The WIC program bases selection of authorized retailers on the following:

(a) Program need. The program mission is to improve the lifelong health and nutrition of women, infants, and children in Washington state. Meeting this mission is the foundation for selection of authorized retailers. Retailers are selected to provide clients reasonable access to the nutrition provided by WIC foods.

(b) Check volume.

(i) Retailers applying for reauthorization must take an average of at least forty checks per month in a six-month period.

(ii) Retailers with no WIC history will be on probation for one year or to the end of the contract period, whichever comes first. The WIC program will evaluate the retailer's check volume at the end of the probation and may take action to end the contract.

(c) WIC approved foods.

(i) Retailers must have on their shelves:

(A) At least the minimum quantities of WIC approved foods as specified in the WIC approved foods - Minimum stock levels when they apply.

(B) The minimum quantity of the WIC contract infant formulas for at least one to two infants, using the quantities specified in the WIC Approved Foods - Minimum Stock Levels.

(C) At least the minimum variety of items from all WIC food categories as specified in the WIC Approved Foods - Minimum Stock Levels.

(D) WIC approved foods with current shelf lives.

(ii) Retailers must:

(A) Maintain minimum stock levels throughout the contract period.

(B) Purchase infant formula only from a wholesaler, distributor, retailer, or supplier approved by the WIC program.

(C) Be prepared to provide documentation identifying where they buy infant formula.

(d) Prices of WIC approved foods.

A retailer must agree to and maintain prices of individual WIC foods at or less than the maximum price within their assigned peer group as determined by the WIC program.

(e) Business operations.

Retailers must:

(i) Have a valid Washington state tax registration (UBI) number. Oregon and Idaho retailers must have all valid licenses required by their respective state.

(ii) Have an activated food stamp authorization number. Pharmacies are exempt from this requirement.

(iii) Operate from a fixed, permanent location.

(iv) Be a full line/full service retailer that stocks a variety of staple foods on a continuous basis in addition to WIC approved foods. Staple foods include fresh, frozen, and/or canned unbreaded meat, poultry, fruits, and vegetables, dairy products, and grain products, such as bread, rice, and pasta.

(v) Be open for business at least eight hours per day, six days per week.

(vi) Accept cash and food stamp EBT.

(vii) Receive or be expected to receive no more than fifty percent of their total annual food sales from WIC transactions.

(f) Business integrity.

(i) The WIC program will not authorize a retailer if, in the last six years, the retailer has been disqualified from WIC or the food stamp program or has been assessed a monetary penalty instead of a food stamp disqualification. Exceptions may be considered based on program need.

(ii) An owner, officer, or partner of a retailer must not have sold a store in order to avoid a WIC sanction.

(iii) The WIC program will deny or revoke a retailer's WIC authorization if any of the owners, officers, partners, or managers has been convicted of or had a civil judgment for fraud, antitrust violations, embezzlement, theft, forgery, bribery, falsification or destruction of records, making false statements, receiving stolen property, making false claims, or obstruction of justice in the last six years.

(g) Compliance with the WIC contract.

(i) A retailer must attend training on WIC requirements at least once per contract period.

(ii) A retailer must comply with all program requirements.

(10) A retailer must meet all the selection criteria to be considered for WIC authorization and, once authorized, must continue to meet the selection criteria throughout the term of the contract. Exceptions may be made for pharmacies needed to supply special infant formulas or retailers in isolated areas.

(11) The WIC program must deny a retailer authorization for failure to meet any of the stated selection criteria.

(12) The WIC program may review an authorized retailer's compliance with the retailer selection criteria any time in the contract period and must end the contract of any retailer which fails to meet them.

WAC 246-790-080 What do I need to know about WIC retailer contracts? (1) All selected retailers must enter into written contracts with the WIC program. The contractor and the designee of the contracting officer of the department of health must each sign the contract.

(2) The contract lists all authorized retailer locations by name and address. Individual retailers may be added, changed, disqualified, or deleted by contract amendment without affecting the remaining authorized retailer locations.

(3) The WIC program issues contracts for a maximum period of three years.

(4) Neither the WIC program nor the contractor is obligated to recontract. The WIC program will notify contractors and retailers in writing not less than fifteen days before the expiration of a contract.

(5) Authorization is valid for no longer than the period stated in the contract. The retailer must reapply to be considered for subsequent authorization.

(6) The contractor or the WIC program may end the contract at any time by submitting a written notice to the other party with thirty days advance notice.

(7) The contract is null and void in the event of a retailer closure or change in ownership.

(8) The contractor cannot voluntarily withdraw from participating in the WIC program in order to avoid being disqualified.

WAC 246-790-085 What is expected of WIC retailers? (1) Retailers must comply with WIC program requirements and terms of the retailer contract, including any changes that occur during the contract period.

(2) The WIC program will notify contractors and retailers of any changes to WIC program requirements in a timely manner.

(3) Retailers must provide access to their facilities at all reasonable times for WIC program representatives to monitor, to provide training or technical assistance, and to evaluate performance, compliance, and quality assurance.

(4) Retailers must provide access to redeemed WIC checks for the purpose of review by the program representative during any on-site visit.

(5) Retailers must maintain inventory records, and provide WIC program representatives access to those records on request, showing all purchases, both wholesale and retail, for a period of at least one year after the expiration of the contract with the WIC program. These inventory records include, but are not limited to, shelf price records, wholesale receipts, cash and carry receipts, purchase orders, books of account, invoices that identify the quantity and prices of specific WIC foods, and other pertinent records that substantiate shelf prices and where, when, and how much of each item was purchased. Records without specific identification of the name of the business where the food was purchased, the date purchased, the quantity, unit price, and name of food purchased are not acceptable as evidence.

(6) Contractors and retailers must observe time lines, such as deadlines for submitting price lists and returning properly signed contracts. Failure to do so may result in denial or termination of authorization.

WAC 246-790-090 How are WIC retailer contracts monitored? (1) The WIC program reviews retailers to monitor compliance with program requirements in the following ways.

(2) Preauthorization visits.

(a) Visit is scheduled in advance.

(b) The WIC program representative confirms the information on the application, including information on WIC food stock levels and shelf prices.

(c) The WIC program representative provides training on the purpose of the program, WIC approved foods, required minimum stock levels, check handling procedures, sanctions, complaints, and claims.

(d) The retailer signs the preauthorization visit form verifying receipt of the training, understanding of program requirements, and the commitment to train store personnel.

(3) Compliance visits.

(a) Visit may or may not be scheduled in advance;

(b) The WIC program representative may do some or all of the following during a visit: Review WIC check handling procedures, WIC food stock levels, pull dates, shelf prices, WIC checks negotiated but not yet deposited, shelf price records, wholesale receipts, cash and carry receipts, purchase orders, books of account, invoices that identify the quantity and prices of specific WIC foods, and other pertinent records that substantiate the name of the business where the food was purchased, the date purchased, the quantities purchased, and prices charged; provide training or technical assistance; and verify implementation of a corrective action plan.

(c) The WIC program representative documents the name of the retailer, the name of the program representative, the names of all persons interviewed, the date of the visit, any problems or concerns detected, any corrective action plan required if problems are detected, and the signatures of the program representative and the retailer.

(d) The WIC program representative follows up in writing with the retailer if the retailer needs to correct a problem discovered during the compliance visit.

(4) Compliance purchases.

(a) The WIC program representative acts covertly;

(b) The program representative may make a purchase using WIC checks or may attempt trafficking;

(c) The WIC program representative completes a report itemizing information including, but not limited to, a description of the checker involved, the time and date of the transaction, the number of check stands opened and closed, other customers in line, exact items purchased and/or refused, the prices charged, comments of the checker, observations of the investigator or the investigative aide, any stock deficiencies noted, any other pertinent information, and the signature of the investigator.

(5) Price audits. The WIC program reviews actual prices charged by retailers on an ongoing basis.

(6) Inventory audits.

(a) The WIC program representative requests inventory records showing all purchases, both wholesale and retail.

(b) Acceptable forms of inventory records include wholesale receipts, cash and carry receipts, purchase orders, books of account, invoices that identify the quantity and prices of specific WIC foods, and other pertinent records that verify prices, name of the business where the food was purchased, the date purchased, and the quantity purchased.

(c) Records without specific identification of the name of the business where the food was purchased, the date purchased, quantity, unit price, and name of food are not acceptable as evidence.

(d) The WIC program representative compares the inventory records provided by the retailer with information from preaudit on-site visits and the WIC data system to determine any shortfalls in inventory compared to WIC redemptions.

(7) Selection criteria reviews.

(a) The WIC program may review a retailer's compliance with the retailer selection criteria any time during the contract period.

(b) The WIC program will review a new retailer's compliance with the retailer selection criteria at the end of their probation period.

WAC 246-790-100 What happens if I don't comply with the WIC retailer contract or requirements? (1) Retailers who do not comply with WIC program requirements are at risk of losing their contract with the WIC program and may be liable to prosecution in accordance with federal regulations (7 CFR 246.12 and 7 CFR 246.23). Examples of noncompliance include, but are not limited to:

(a) Buying or selling WIC checks for cash (trafficking);

(b) Selling firearms, ammunition, explosives, or controlled substances for WIC checks;

(c) Selling alcohol, alcoholic beverages, or tobacco products for WIC checks;

(d) Buying infant formula from a wholesaler, distributor, retailer, or supplier not approved by the WIC program;

(e) Charging WIC for food not available to buy and having no documentation of having had enough food on the shelf for WIC clients to buy;

(f) Providing unauthorized food or other items to WIC clients instead of, or in addition to, WIC approved foods;

(g) Selling or offering to sell foods with expired shelf lives;

(h) Selling more food than allowed on the WIC check;

(i) Charging the WIC program for foods not received by the client;

(j) Charging the WIC program more for WIC approved foods than other customers are charged for the same food;

(k) Providing credit or nonfood items to clients in a WIC transaction;

(l) Asking WIC clients for cash or giving change in a WIC transaction;

(m) Redeeming WIC checks outside of authorized channels. For example, a retailer accepting WIC checks without having a signed contract with the WIC program; a retailer using WIC checks to repay debt at a different authorized retailer; or a retailer who receives and deposits the WIC checks from an unauthorized source.

(n) Failing to write the actual purchase price on the WIC check at the time of the WIC transaction;

(o) Failing to maintain adequate stock of WIC foods on the retailer's shelves; and

(p) Providing false information in connection with an application for WIC authorization.

(2) A retailer who willfully misapplies, steals, or fraudulently obtains WIC program funds valued at more than one hundred dollars will be subject to a monetary penalty of not more than twenty-five thousand dollars, imprisonment up to five years, or both. If the value of the funds is less than one hundred dollars, the sanctions are a monetary penalty of not more than one thousand dollars, imprisonment up to one year, or both.

(3) The WIC program may deny payment to, impose monetary penalties on, and disqualify retailers for noncompliance with WIC program requirements and terms of the retailer contract.

(4) The WIC program must seek reimbursement from retailers for documented overcharges and for payments made on improperly handled WIC checks.

(5) Retailers who do not comply with WIC program requirements, except for the offenses listed in the first five rows of the table in subsection (7) of this section, will be notified by the WIC program and given the opportunity to correct the problem. Methods of notification include, but are not limited to, technical assistance contacts and notice of correction letters. After the opportunity for corrective action, a retailer who still does not comply will be subject to sanctions.

(6) When the WIC program denies payment, imposes a monetary penalty, requests reimbursement, or disqualifies a retailer, the program must give the contractor written notice not less than fifteen days prior to the effective date of the action. Denial of authorization and permanent disqualification are effective the date the contractor receives the notice. Every notice must state what action is being taken, the effective date of the action, and the procedure for requesting an appeal hearing if the action is one that can be appealed.

(7) Per 7 CFR 246.12(l), the WIC program must sanction a retailer for the following:

(2007 Ed.)

	Violation	Length of Disqualification
Mandatory disqualification - no opportunity for correction	Disqualification from the food stamp program by the USDA food and nutrition service;	Time period corresponding to food stamp program disqualification
	Conviction for trafficking in WIC checks or exchanging fire-arms, ammunition, explosives, or controlled substances for WIC checks;	Permanent
	One incidence of trafficking in WIC checks;	Six years
	One incidence of exchanging fire-arms, ammunition, explosives, or controlled substances for WIC checks;	Six years
	One incidence of exchanging alcohol, alcoholic beverages, or tobacco products for WIC checks;	Three years
Notification and opportunity to correct before disqualification or monetary penalty	A documented pattern of charging WIC for food not available to buy and having no documentation of having had enough food on the shelf for WIC clients to buy;	Three years
	A documented pattern of overcharging, including charging more than the shelf price and charging more than for non-WIC customers;	Three years
	A documented pattern of charging for food not received by the client;	Three years

	Violation	Length of Disqualification
	A documented pattern of redeeming WIC checks outside of authorized channels;	Three years
	A documented pattern of providing credit or non-food items, other than alcohol, alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, cash, firearms, ammunition, explosives, or controlled substances as defined in 21 N.S.C. 802, in exchange for WIC checks;	Three years
	A documented pattern of selling unauthorized foods or selling more than the amount of food listed on the WIC check.	One year
	A documented pattern of purchasing infant formula from a person or business other than a wholesaler, distributor, retailer, or supplier approved by the WIC program.	One year
	A documented pattern of having no documentation that identifies where infant formula was purchased.	One year

(8) At the end of the disqualification period, the retailer must reapply to be considered for authorization.

(9) Prior to disqualifying a retailer, the WIC program considers program need. If the WIC program determines a retailer's disqualification prevents clients from getting their WIC foods, the WIC program may impose a monetary penalty instead of disqualification.

(10) Monetary penalties are calculated in accordance with federal regulations using the following formula:

(a) Average the retailer's monthly volume of WIC business over at least the six-month period ending with the month preceding when the notice to the retailer is dated;

(b) Multiply the average by ten percent (.10);

(c) Multiply that number by the number of months for which the store would be disqualified. This is the amount of the monetary penalty.

(11) Monetary penalties must not exceed ten thousand dollars for each documented violation, except for convictions for trafficking WIC checks and for selling firearms, ammunition, explosives, or controlled substances for WIC checks. For these violations requiring permanent disqualification, the monetary penalty is eleven thousand dollars. If several violations are documented during the course of one investigation, the WIC program must impose a monetary penalty for each violation, not to exceed a total of forty thousand dollars, except for convictions for trafficking WIC checks and for selling firearms, ammunition, explosives, or controlled substances for WIC checks. In this case, the monetary penalty is not to exceed forty-four thousand dollars.

(12) Monetary penalties and reimbursements must be paid to the revenue section of the department within the time period specified in the notice. Retailers who fail to pay within the time period specified in the notice will be referred to a collection agency and disqualified for the length of time corresponding to the violation.

(13) When a retailer who has already been sanctioned for noncompliance is found out of compliance again, the WIC program must double the sanction. A monetary penalty instead of disqualification is not an option for third or subsequent incidences of noncompliance.

(14) A contractor who fails to notify the WIC program of closure or a change in ownership, retailer name, and/or location is liable for resultant costs incurred by the WIC program.

WAC 246-808-015 Adjudicative proceedings—Procedural rules for the commission. The commission adopts the model procedural rules for adjudicative proceedings as adopted by the department of health and contained in chapter 246-11 WAC, including subsequent amendments.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 18.25 RCW. 96-16-074, § 246-808-015, filed 8/6/96, effective 9/6/96.]

WAC 246-808-020 Colleges—Policy. (1) In determining a college's eligibility for accreditation the commission may utilize, at its discretion, recognized chiropractic accrediting associations, recognized regional accrediting associations, and appropriate professional firms, agencies and individuals.

(2) Accreditation shall be primarily contingent upon a course of study which incorporates educationally sound practices and complies with the chiropractic educational requirements for the state of Washington.

(3) A college must have successfully graduated a class prior to making application for accreditation.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 18.25 RCW. 96-16-074, § 246-808-020, filed 8/6/96, effective 9/6/96.]

WAC 246-808-030 Accreditation of colleges—Procedure. (1) Application and determination. A chiropractic college which desires to be accredited by the commission may secure an application form by sending a written request to the commission. The applicant shall complete the application form and submit it to the commission, along with any accompanying documents. Recent photographs of the college or the buildings in which the college is located shall be submitted with the application. Within one hundred twenty days after the receipt of the completed application, the commission shall consider the application, determine whether or not the college fulfills the requirements for accreditation, and notify the applicant, by mail, of the commission's determination. If the commission determines that the college is not approved for accreditation, the notice shall set forth the reasons for denial. The commission may withhold making a determination for a reasonable period of time for any justifiable cause upon giving notice to the applicant.

(2007 Ed.)

(2) Interrogatories. If the commission desires, it may request the applicant to answer specific inquiries. The granting or the denial of accreditation may be contingent upon the applicants' response to such inquiries.

(3) Oath. The answers to the inquiries in the application, and any other inquiries, shall be sworn to before a notary public.

(4) Inspection. If the commission desires, it may make the physical inspection of a particular college a condition for its being accredited. Reasonable costs for necessary on-campus visitation shall be paid by the applicant.

(5) Duration. A college which is once accredited shall continue to be accredited for so long as it fulfills the requirements set forth by the commission, or to be set forth by the commission. Upon receiving convincing evidence that a college has ceased to fulfill the requirements, the commission shall withdraw the accreditation of the college and shall inform the college of its reasons for doing so. A college shall inform the commission of changes, if any, in status which could reasonably jeopardize the college's qualifications for accreditation. Such changes shall include, but are not limited to, changes in curriculum, administration, faculty, classrooms and equipment.

(6) Revocation of accreditation. When the commission receives evidence that an accredited institution is not complying with commission criteria, it may, after meeting with institutional representatives, place the institution on probation. The institution shall be supplied with a written statement of charges setting forth the specifics of the noncompliance. The commission and chief administrative officer of the institution may agree on a mutually acceptable timetable and procedures for correction of the deficiencies or the commission may set the timetable. Should the institution not make the corrections recommended, or should further deficiencies develop during the probation, the commission may, after meeting with institutional representatives, revoke the accreditation of the college.

(7) Reinstatement of accredited status. Once the commission has revoked the accredited status of an institution, it must reapply by submitting either a new self-study or an updated self-study as may be required by the commission. The commission's usual procedure for applicants for initial accreditation and petitions for renewal is applied to petitioners for reinstatement. The visitation team report, hearing evidence and supporting data must show not only correction of the deficiencies which led to the disaccreditation but, in addition, compliance with the commission's criteria.

(8) Appeal. An appeal of a decision adverse to the college must be filed with the commission within thirty days of receipt of the commission's written decision. To be valid the appeal must contain a certified copy of a formal action authorizing the appeal, taken by a lawfully constituted meeting of the governing body of the institution. The appeal is based on a review of self-evaluation documents, catalog, visitor's report, institution's response to visitor's report, predecision hearing of the commission and commission decision. Alleged improvements effective subsequent to the evaluation which can be verified only through another on-site visit provide the basis for another evaluation, not for an appeal. An appeal does not include a dispute on a finding of fact unless appellant presents a valid reason showing the finding is clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record before the commission. The commission shall meet to consider the appeal at its earliest opportunity, and send a formal reply to the appealing college within thirty days of such meeting, unless it extends the time for good cause shown.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 18.25 RCW. 96-16-074, § 246-808-030, filed 8/6/96, effective 9/6/96.]

WAC 246-808-640 Scope of practice—Revocation or suspension of license authorized for practice outside scope.

(1) The chiropractic quality assurance commission finds that over the past few years there has been an increasing number of persons licensed as chiropractors who have been practicing other healing arts while holding themselves out to the public as chiropractors to the detriment of the public health and welfare of the state of Washington and contrary to the legislative directive contained in RCW 18.25.002(4). The commission further finds and deems it necessary to carry out the provisions of chapter 18.25 RCW that this rule be adopted to give guidance to members of the profession, and the public, in interpreting for purposes of application by the disciplinary commission of RCW 18.25.112, the scope of health care which comes within the definition of chiropractic in RCW 18.25.005 and which is authorized under a license to practice chiropractic in the state of Washington.

(2) RCW 18.25.005 defines the term "chiropractic." The commission finds that the following diagnostic techniques and procedures, by whatever name known, are not within the definition of "chiropractic" as specified in RCW 18.25.005, and, consequently, a license to practice chiropractic does not authorize their use:

(a) The use of X rays or other forms of radiation for any other reason than to X ray the human skeleton.

(b) The use of any form of electrocardiogram.

(c) The testing and reduction to mathematical formulae of sputum and/or urine (commonly known as "reams" testing).

(d) Hair analysis.

(e) The use of iridology.

(f) The taking of blood samples.

(g) Female breast examinations.

The above list is not to be considered exhaustive or to limit the commission in any way from finding under the statutory definition in RCW 18.25.005 that any other diagnostic technique or procedure is outside the scope of chiropractic practice.

(3) The commission finds that the following treatment modalities, by whatever name known, are not within the definition of "chiropractic" as specified in subsection (2) of this section and in RCW 18.25.005 and, consequently, a license to practice chiropractic does not authorize their use:

(a) Ultrasound, diathermy, high voltage galvanic therapy and X rays or other radiation.

(b) Electrotherapy.

(c) The use of a transcutaneous electrical nerve stimulator (TENS).

(d) The use of the endonasal technique.

(e) The use of any type of casting other than light body casting.

(f) The use of meridian therapy, whether known as "acupressure," or the same type of therapy under any other names unless complementary or preparatory to a chiropractic spinal adjustment.

(g) The use of hypnosis.

(h) The use of clinical herbology.

The above list is not to be considered exhaustive or to limit the commission in any way from finding under the statutory definition in RCW 18.25.005 that any other treatment modalities are outside the scope of chiropractic practice.

(4) The use by a chiropractor of diagnostic techniques or procedures or treatment modalities which are outside the definition of chiropractic in RCW 18.25.005, whether or not listed in this rule, or the use by a chiropractor of any of the diagnostic techniques and procedures listed in subsection (2) of this section or the use by a chiropractor of any of the treatment modalities listed in subsection (3) of this section shall constitute unprofessional conduct under RCW 18.130.180 (12) which shall be good and sufficient cause for revocation or suspension of that chiropractor's license to practice chiropractic in Washington.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 18.25 RCW. 96-16-074, § 246-808-640, filed 8/6/96, effective 9/6/96.]

WAC 246-808-650 Records and X rays and withdrawal from practice—Maintenance and retention of patient records.

(1) Any chiropractor who treats patients in the state of Washington shall maintain all treatment records regarding patients treated. These records may include, but shall not be limited to, X rays, treatment plans, patient charts, patient histories, correspondence, financial data, and billing. These records shall be retained by the chiropractor for five years in an orderly, accessible file and shall be readily available for inspection by the commission or its authorized representative. X rays or copies of records may be forwarded pursuant to a licensed agent's written request. Also, office records shall state the date on which the records were released, method forwarded and to whom, and the reason for the release. A reasonable fee may be charged the patient to cover mailing and clerical costs.

(2) A chiropractor shall honor within fifteen days a written request from an adult patient or their legal representative or the legal representative of a minor child to release:

(a) Original X rays and records to other licensed health care providers; or

(b) The chiropractor may provide duplicate films or a copy of the patient records to the health care provider or the patient. The health care provider may bill the patient reasonable duplication costs. Once the original films have been loaned at patient request, the chiropractor is no longer responsible for them, or for their retrieval or subsequent production.

A chiropractor who has received original X rays on a loan basis shall return them to the loaning chiropractor upon request within sixty days unless other arrangements are made.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 18.25 RCW. 96-16-074, § 246-808-650, filed 8/6/96, effective 9/6/96.]

WAC 246-808-655 Duties of a chiropractor who retires or withdraws from practice. Any chiropractor who ceases practice in their community for any reason, including retirement, illness, disability, or relocation shall comply with the following duties:

(1) The chiropractor shall notify all current patients that they shall not be able to provide chiropractic services and shall notify the patient to seek another chiropractor to continue their care.

(2) The chiropractor shall offer to deliver to the patient, or to another chiropractor or licensed health care professional chosen by the patient, the originals or copies of all patient examination and treatment records and X rays or notify the patient of a community area location where the records and X rays shall be maintained and accessible for at least one year after the notice is sent to the patient.

(3) The chiropractor shall refund any part of fees paid in advance that have not been earned.

(4) The commission requests that the executor or executrix of a deceased chiropractor comply with the duties set forth herein to the fullest extent possible. The commission staff shall provide advice and assistance to such executor or executrix upon request.

(5) For the purpose of this section, any relocation or restriction of practice which substantially interferes with a patient's reasonable access to their chiropractor shall be cause for the chiropractor to comply with the duties set forth.

(6) Willful failure to comply with this section shall be cause to suspend a chiropractor's license until the required duties are fulfilled.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 18.25 RCW. 96-16-074, § 246-808-655, filed 8/6/96, effective 9/6/96.]

WAC 246-808-670 Chiropractic associations or societies. The president or chief executive officer of any chiropractic association or society within this state shall report to the commission when an association or society determines that a chiropractor has committed unprofessional conduct or that a chiropractor may not be able to practice chiropractic with reasonable skill and safety to patients as the result of any mental or physical condition and constitutes an apparent risk to the public health, safety, or welfare. The report required by this section shall be made without regard to whether the license holder appeals, accepts, or acts upon the determination made by the association or society. Notification of appeal shall be included.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 18.25 RCW. 96-16-074, § 246-808-670, filed 8/6/96, effective 9/6/96.]

(2) If the chiropractor fails to comply with the request within fourteen calendar days, the investigator shall contact the chiropractor or the chiropractor's attorney by telephone or letter as a reminder.

(3) Investigators may extend the time for response if the chiropractor requests an extension for a period not to exceed seven calendar days.

(4) If the chiropractor fails to comply with the request within three business days after the receipt of the reminder, then a subpoena shall be served upon the chiropractor to obtain the requested items.

(5) If the chiropractor fails to comply with the subpoena, a statement of charges shall be issued pursuant to RCW 18.130.180(8) and, if there is sufficient evidence to support additional charges, then those charges may be included in the statement of charges.

(6) If the chiropractor complies with the request after the issuance of the statement of charges, the commission's assistant attorney general-prosecutor shall decide whether the charges based on RCW 18.130.180(8) shall be prosecuted or settled. If the charges based on RCW 18.130.180(8) are to be settled, the settlement proposal shall be presented to the commission or a duly constituted panel of the commission for a decision on ratification and until ratified, the settlement is not final.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE MONITORING

WAC 246-808-801 Purpose. The commission recognizes the need to establish a means of proactively providing early recognition and treatment options for chiropractors whose competency may be impaired due to the abuse of drugs or alcohol. The commission intends that such chiropractors be treated and their treatment monitored so that they can return to or continue to practice their profession in a way which safeguards the public. To accomplish this, the commission shall approve voluntary substance abuse monitoring programs and shall refer chiropractors impaired by substance abuse to approved programs as an alternative to instituting disciplinary proceedings as defined in RCW 18.130.160.

[Statutory Authority: Chapter 18.25 RCW. 96-16-074, § 246-808-801, filed 8/6/96, effective 9/6/96.]

Counselors must provide disclosure information to each client in accordance with chapter 18.19 RCW prior to implementation of a treatment plan. Firms, agencies, or businesses having more than one counselor involved in a client's treatment, may provide disclosure information general to that agency. In these cases, the counselor would not be required to duplicate the information disclosed by the agency.

These procedures must be followed between each patient. These include but are not limited to:

Sterilizers shall be tested by a biological spore test on at least a weekly basis. In the event of a positive biological spore test, the denturist shall take immediate remedial action to ensure the objectives of (a) of this subsection are accomplished. Documentation shall be maintained either in the form of a log reflecting dates and person(s) conducting the testing or copies of reports from an independent testing entity. The documentation shall be maintained for a period of at least five years.
